Newton Mothers Toys Distributed In New Way By Welfare Bureau

This Christmas the Newton Welfare Bureau tried out a new way of delivering the hundreds of toys which are given to it every year at Christmas time. Formerly toys were picked out in the office by volunteers for each family depending on the ages of the children, then were wrapped up and delivered to the homes by the Garden City Laundry Trucks. This year however as an experiment the toys den City Laundry Trucks. To so there really is a Santa Claus!

Although toys for children at the moment seem to be the most important Christmas activity it is only part of the Newton Welfare Bureau Christmas. Christmas dinners loom large and this year larger than usual because of the fact that so many men have been out of work for so long. Two hundred and twenty-seven families received full Christmas dinners. The bulk of these however were cared for by other groups and agencies and individuals—such as Churches, Sunday School Classes, Schools, especially the Newton High School through Mr. Kidger, the Elks, the Masons, the employees of the Telephone Company, the employees of City Hall, the employees of the Newton Trust Company, the Kotary Club, the Gethsemane Commandery, etc., to a total of 52 including many individuals who contributed from 1 to 10 dinners.

Seven hundred dollars was donated in addition, a sum far in excess of any Christmas money donated in the history of the Welfare Bureau. And because of the fact that so many people paid for dinners, only part of this money was used for food. The remainder has been given in Christmas presents of coal, rent, clothing, et

Many Auburndale Residents At Hearing

James L. Richards of Kirkstall road, Newtonville, one of Newton's most prominent citizens, was the guest of honor on December 24th at a dinner held at the Algonquin Club, Boston, by sixty officials and directors of the Massachusetts Gas Companies. On the preceding day Mr. Richards had resigned as president of that organization and today he assumes the office of chairman of the Board of Directors of the company. At a board meeting earlier on the day on which the dinner was held, Mr. Richards was presented with an especially designed book which contains an appreciation of the service and accomplishments of the service and accomplishments Mr. Richards brought to the company which he organized and of which he had been the president since its inception. The presentation speech was made by Charles Francis Adams, Secretary of the Navy, and a fellow director of Mr. Richards in the company.

DONATE $250 TO UNEMPLOYED

The substantial sum of $250 was added to the fund for the relief of the unemployed in Newton as a result of a unique method conceived by a Newton family at its reunion on Christmas Day. Some one at this family gathering suggested that instead of exchanging gifts, that all the presents be auctioned off, the purchasers buying without knowledge of the contents of the parcels on which they bid. tents of the parcels on which they bid. The suggestion was adopted and spirited bidding resulted which caused the appreciable sum to be realized. The donors wished their names with-

Other Matters In Annual Address

"Inauguration of Newton's City Government for the 58th year presents us today with the opportunity to briefly review the accomplishments of the past twelve months, to outline the projects to which we must give our attention during the coming year and to re-affirm our resolution to discharge to the best of our ability the trust imposed upon us by the thousands who live here in Newton and whom we have the honor to represent in this City Government.

"Just a year ago today, I said that the successful administration of city affairs requires constant and complete co-operation between the executive and the legislative branches of our city government, and that I proposed to the best of my ability to make this co-operation as effective as possible, I cannot let the opportunity pass at this time to say that the co-operation referred to above, it seems to me, has been in evidence at all times and that its effectiveness has been demonstrated by the extremely satisfactory program of work inaugurated during the past twelve months. We have, unfortunately, sufficient evidence in some neighboring cities of conflict between the two branches of the city government, the natural result of which is inability to get things done and to make anything like satisfactory progress in the conduct of the city sousness. I cannot refrain from expressing my personal appreciation of the various city departments I cannot of course, say that we have reached the millennium, but it does seem to me that reasonably satisfactory progress has been made, and here again I would indeed be ungrateful were I not to express my sincere appreciation of the various city department so the complete without adequate reference to our financial status. If times were normal I think I could visualize a lower tax rate in 1931, but because of the factors outlined above the best I personally can hope for is to maintain the 1931 rate at the figure current in 1930 and 1929, viz.: $27.20 per thousand. To do even this will require careful planning and the co-operation of all concerned in the appropriation and expenditure of public funds.

NEWTON LOSES TO RINDGE IN OPENER

Newton high lost its opening gam in the Greater Boston Interscholastic league yesterday morning on Bullough's Pond, Newtonville, when Rindge Tech scored the winning counter of an exciting 2 to 1 contest with but a few minutes to play. The game had hardly got under way before Tony Sarausky, Rindge star athlete, crossed up the Newton defence and shot a wicked drive from the Blue line that Skillings, Newton goalle, didn't even see. For the rest of the period Newton forced the going with Butler, Captain Hildreth and Chase, peppering the Rindge goal with

When Sarausky re-turned he snaked down the ice with leavile feet the latter, a pass that Houle alle, fed the latter a pass that Houle t into the Newton net from far . Sarausky took a bad toss a molater while scrimmaging for the r and received a nasty cut on the that forced him to leave the nose that forced him to leave the game. Newton put on pressure again but the Rindge defence was too strong. Robinson relieved Skillings in the Newton cage and made a spectacular save of another shot by Houle. Newton will play its second league game tomorrow afternoon at the Boston Garden with Belmont in one of the four games on the schedule. Through the management of the Boston rink the league will play these double doubleheaders on Saturday afternoons with the first games beginning at 1 o'clock. Two games will be completed before the second set is called so that fans may see only their favorite teams in action or an entire afternoon of hockey. Other games on the card for tomorrow beside the Newton-Belmont clash are Woburn vs. Melrose, Stoneham vs. Arlington and Rindge vs. Cambridge. The first two of this trio are in the opening bracket while the Newton game and the Cambridge teams will stage the wind-up. The orange and black had its first opportunity in a practice game with an alumni team on Tuesday of this week. In an informal scrimmage the schoolboys took the graduates into camp. 3 to 1. Good goal tending by Skillings thwarted many attempts on the part of a strong alumni sextet to score further. Kelley, Colby, and Sostillio scored once each for the school team. The track team meets the alumni tonight at the old gymnasium which will give Coach Donald Enoch an opportunity to get a line on what to expect from his team in the coming dual and interscholastic meets. The alumni will present a fast team with several college stars on hand to make the competition exceedingly keen against the veteran Newton runners.

Newton's second dual meet will be held next Thursday afternoon at the Boston Y. M. C. A. track against Medford and will give the Newton athletes an idea of conditions there for the Northeastern University interscholastic meet the last of the month.

The basketball team opens its season next Friday afternoon when Coach Frank Simmons sends his quintet against that of Coach Ward of Watertown at the latter's court.

admit that there is room for improvement.

I hope you don't think that I'm about to tell you that I have already broken my resolutions, because I'm not. I've a better plan than that. It's really so simple a half-wit could have invented it.

Before I go into too great details, I must confess to a weakness which I share with all humanity, that the things that bother and annoy and irritate and displease me and cause me anguish and so forth, are not things that I do, but the words and actions of other people. If everyone else did as I want them to do, I'd be perfectly happy, though the rest of the world would doubtless have a terrible time.

Having never done any of these things, said Bently may now continue doing the things he really wants to do, secure in the knowledge that he has made unbreakable resolutions. Thus he will enjoy a most happy New Year

Well, the new year arrived, just as I predicted to my intimate friends. It tertainly is a source of great satisfaction to realize that one's prophecies are realized. Having forecast, accurately, that there would be a new year, I now feel and if the would be both safe and fitting for me to go a step further and predict that this young year in which we now find ourselves is going to be a great one. And permit me to add to that bit of prognostication the hope that it will be a happy one for every. Now, about New Year's resolutions. There is much to be said concerning this problem, both pro and con. Of course it is mostly "con", so I will way the old Swedish, or Lithuanian, this problem, both pro and con. Of course it is mostly "con", so I will sway the old Swedish, or Lithuanian, unstom of promising oneself to do this and that during an ensuing year and not to do thus and so. Do you follow me? You're taking an awful chance if you do!

It becomes necessary to be personal for a moment, but don't fear, I'll be personal only with myself. Now take my New Year's resolutions, and you certainly are welcome to them. As far as I am able to understand this changing of the ward lines isn't going to upset us sentimentally a whole lot. Politicians, and not plain ordinary people, worry about these things. You seldom hear an old-timer say, with tears in his eyes, "Tve lived the personal only with myself. Now care to. Of course, I want you to inderstand that my life, even during the good old "daze" of 1930, was above reproach, but even so, I must admit that there is room for improvement.

I hope you don't think that I'm about to tell you that I have already day after election. Some of the tining that happen may bring sorrow to the hearts of certain ambitious folks who had figured otherwise, but the rea old standby isn't likely to have tender assiciations with ward lines.

Such is not true of New York. You ecall that at the time Ex-Governor recall that at the time Ex-Governor Smith of that State was a candidate for President there were frequent references to his old ward in New York City. There was no question about the sincerity of the regard held by the people there of "Al" Smith. But that proves that it is essentially a New York custom to refer to the "old 10th ward" or whatever it may be. The same applies to Chicago where a certain ward stands for something, I forget what. In Boston before thing, I forget what. In Boston before thing, I forget what. In Boston before the advent of prohibition we had a memorable "Ward 8". Please do not interpret this to mean that I per-sonally consumed the beverage known by that name. But "Ward 8" was known as a concoction and, if memor erves me, a popular one.

It may be that I have overlooked something, yet I believe Newton has its own ideas about naming localities. In no instance, as I have sought to point out, has anybody been known In no instance, as I have sought to point out, has anybody been known to compose verses or write essays or do any of those things that are inspired by beautiful memories of any particular ward in the city of Newton. The trouble is, I suppose, that a good many people don't know what ward they live in, and don't care as far as that goes. They are not unintelligent but it isn't a matter that concerns them in any way. They may ask, "What ward is this?" and when you answer they reply, "Thank you," showing clearly they don't give a hoot one way or the other.

The city's business requires that there be wards or we would have to go without Aldermen and a lot of other things. And, possessing wards, lines must be drawn between one ward and another. I am sure that these lines will be just and fair. Therefore, all I can add is, "Hew to the ward line, let the votes fall where they may".

Even when I bend my back with a snow shovel in my hand I am glad I live in the suburbs of Boston—and, in fact, one of the very best of all Boston suburbs. If I like Newton in Boston suburbs. If I like Newton in the beautiful Summer, when the roads are dry, I like it in the Winter when the roads are covered with snow and possibly slush. Let me tell you that it pays to be loyal. Not that I look ipon loyalty as an investment, but be-cause things sort of work out that

Last Saturday morning I started to walk from Tremont street to Doctor Naylor's office. I crossed Park street and headed down Elmwood street. It and headed down Elmwood street. It was raining hard, and, with the snow that had already fallen, there was a flood of slush. At the corner of Eldredge street and Elmwood I found I was surrounded by water. Although I had heavy overshoes on I knew that whichever way O stepped I would get soaking wet up to my knees. I was on the point of turning back when a milk-wagon driver appeared from the direction of Park street. This young man saw what I was up against

No one is superstitious today, we know, but just the same I gues we like to see the total of 1931 add up to 14, so "cheer up.

James Maher of 88 Auburn street, West Newton, was in the Newton court on Monday charged with "bit and run" driving. He was accused of driving a car which on the night of December 21st struck Cyril Quinn of 1113 Washington street, West Newton, and Harry Yanco, Jr., of Cook street, Newton, as the pair were standing alongside a car in front of Quinn's -home. Yanco and William Marsh of Crafts street chased Maher's car and caught it on Auburn street, Quinn testified that he had been merely bruised. Maher' testified that he had been merely bruised. Maher testified that he had been merely bruised. Maher testified that he was unaware he had hit anybody. Judge Bacon indicated that he will find Maher guilty, but does not want to send him to jail. The case was continued until January 5.

"Our new Fire Alarm Signal System was also referred to by me in my inaugural address. This has been substantially completed and the final payment of approximately fifty thousand dollars I expect to recommend to your honorable Board within the next few days. I am hopeful that the installation of this system will enable us to secure a better rating from the Fire Insurance underwriters, and thus directly bring to our citizens substantial savings in fire insurance premiums paid.

"Last spring at the instance of our city government a bill was passed by the State Legislature authorizing the City of Newton to borrow $750,000 outside of the debt limit for City Hall purposes. Following this act architects were appointed and are at present working on plans for our new City Hall and War Memorial, to be constructed on the so-called triangle, bounded by Commonwealth avenue, Homer and Walnut streets. I am hopeful that satisfactory plans will be forthcoming within the very near future, and following their receipt I am prepared to recommend an appropriation to provide for immediate construction. It seems to me that the city is now committed to proceed with this project and I confidently believe, from knowledge already at hand, that its solution will, in the final will be much improved.

"Apartment houses may be said to interfere, by their height and bulk, with the smaller homes and bring, as their necessary accompaniments, the disturbing noises incident to increased traffic and business and the occupation, by means of moving and parking automobiles, of larger portions of our streets, thus detracting from their safety. afety

"Apartment houses bringing these re-sults to the general residential char-acter of our city would, in my opinion, amount, almost acter of our city would, in my opinion, amount almost to a nuisance. This danger, I think has been greatly decreased by our recent change in the Zoning Ordinance. Even with these changes, however, I still feel that apartment houses of the best character cnly should be admitted in the city, and I therefore am opposed to any change in the Building Code that would permit the erection of cheap and unattractive apartments.

"Where there is a demand for highclass apartment houses, constructed attractively, no serious objection probably can be raised. Nevertheless, in such circumstances, it seems to me that the Board of Aldermen should take the necessary steps to see to it that adequate interior courts be required in apartment construction, proper setbacks arranged and located where adequate parking facilities are at hand or are provided on the lot.
Changes in the Zoning Ordinance or Building Code looking to these safeguards, I therefore recommend.

The state of the control of the cont endeavored during the past year to still further increase their efficiency by various operations which I shall referred to in my inaugural address a year ago has been started, and the plant will be ready for ocupancy at the opening of the school year in Sep tember, 1931. This major addition to our school equipment, it seems to me, is going to be one of the most satisfactory developments achieved during recent years. During the three years ending December 31, 1929, in the neighborhood of $80,000 was expended for the regrading of the Newton High School athletic field, and carrying this work still further forward, we have during the year just closed, built a new football field and a new stadium at a cost of approximately $70,000. The construction of a running track around the new football field, which I recommend be undertaken as soon as possible, will complete and round out the lay-out as a whole and give to the City of Newton a High School with athletic facilities, in my judgment, unexcelled anywhere. It has appeared necessary and desirable to make changes to the Bigelow School in order to make it conform more nearly to Junior High School standards, and the first of these changes has been started through action by the city government at its last meeting on December 22nd. It also appears necessary and desirable to acquire land for another Junior High School to serve the Waban, Newton Upper Falls, and Newton High lands sections. Negotiations are all-ded to the force, and Lieutenants appointed. One new captain was added to the force, and Lieutenants appointed.

sible, and that the land in question be acquired by the city government for the school purposes outlined above.
"During the past year Mr. J. Clifton Whitney, our Water Commissioner, terminated 55 years of faithful and efficient service to the City of Newton by requesting that he be retired, and after careful investigation of his qualifications I appointed Mr. Richard H. Ellis as his successor, and his appointment was confirmed by your honorable Board. Mr. Ellis took up the duties of his new position on July 1st., and since that date has been active in making some changes in the operation of the Water Department, which, it seems to me, will make for better service to the citizens of Newton. First and foremost, plans for the complete remodelling of the department's supply yard and buildings on Watertown street have been prepared and contracts let. This reconstruction will provide better facilities for the inspection and repair of all meters, an adequate stock room, pipe shop, a storage room for equipment and heavy stock, and a new garage. With the completion of this unit a program for the systematic inspection of all meters is to be established. With the object in view of rendering a better and more satisfactory service to the public, the

GLIMPSES INTO THE PAST

1930 is gone. As we enter the New Year of 1931 with hopes for better business conditions, more employment, and resulting increased "prosperity," let us not overlook the fact that, although 1930 was a year of "depression" it was, nevertheless, noteworthy in many respects. Glimpses into the past twelve months recall many significant and important events affecting the citizens of Newton. While much has been lost through the resignations of faithful officials and the deaths of prominent citizens, other events have transpired that redound greatly to JANUARY saw the inaugural of a new Mayor for the first time in sixteen years. The Hon. Sinclair Weeks, in his inaugural address, pointed out a number of impending projects. His admonition to "get down to work . . . to produce definite and tangible results" has been carried out in varying degrees of achievement. These accomplishments are the subject matter of a separate editorial.

FEBRUARY was the month during which a bequest of over $300,000 to the city by the death of the late John C. Chaffin in 1904 was revealed through the passing of the sole heir, the late Mrs. Hattie Sheman. The income of this fund is used to aid deserving students in obtaining higher education. The new fire alarm headquarters building at Newton Centre was opened as a step in improving this department.

MARCH winds blew sufficiently strong to reduce the budget below that of 1929 by nearly a quarter of a million dollars. Announcement was made of the contemplated resignation in June of Miss Mabel Bragg, assistant superintendent of the Newton schools and a noted educator, in order that she might accept a higher position at Boston University. Newton's he was a friend to all, were other events of note of the month.

MAY brought the resignation of three Newton officials. J. Clifton Whitney, city water department head, concluded many years of faithful service. Chief Burke and Captain Mullen, having reached the age limit, relinquished their posts after giving their best to their work. Michael Hughes was appointed as police captain and subsequently as chief. Ex-Mayor Edwin O. Childs was elected president of the Chamber of Commerce. And to close the month Memorial Day, with its usual significant observance program, was further marked by the opening of the Tercentenary celebration in the city with the largest parade in the history of Newton.

JUNE witnessed the Tercentenary Pageant on the Newton Centre playground, depicting the growth and history of the city. The success of the affair was a fitting reward for the countless hours of effort and preparation on the part of the many residents taking part in its production. The aldermen appropriated $50,000 for a stadium at the high school athletic ing forward field, the last major step in a development program stretching over many years. Richard H. Ellis was appointed water commissioner to fill Mr. Whitney's position. The north side of Commonwealth avenue was opened to west-bound traffic. Significant was a tribute paid by judges and fellow members of the bar to the memory of the late Hon. Samuel L. Powers, who had long taken an active participation in civic and municipal affairs prior to his death in 1920. It was in the ment nicipal affairs prior to his death in 1929. It was in the month of roses that the city fathers selected the so-called "triangle site" at Commonwealth avenue, Walnut and Homer streets, Newton Centre, for the long-talked-of city hall.

JULY was a memorable month to most of the Newton gold star mothers privileged to make the pilgrimage to France to visit the graves of their loved ones who had given the last full measure of devotion in the World War.

AUGUST brought with it the welcome news that there would be no increase in the 1929 tax rate of $27.20 per thousand. The annual festival on the playgrounds was of great interest to the children of the city. The last Friday of the month completed the 30th year of the process of the sale of Christmas seals in the City of Newton at the end of the fifth week.

Newton Centre $1315.80 Newton 1171.74 the month completed the 30th year of the present ownership of the Graphic and also the 58th year of its existence and participation in the interests of the community.

SEPTEMBER, ushered in on Labor Day, turned the thoughts SEPTEMBER, ushered in on Labor Day, turned the thoughts of many voters to the state primaries. Newton gave Butler a plurality over Draper despite extensive efforts on the part of supporters of the latter. Captain Hughes was advanced from his position to Chief; Lieut. Seaver was appointed to the vacancy and Lieut. Goode appointed to occupy the new rank of a second captain. Newton Upper Falls annexed the championship of the Hub Twilight League in a post-season series with Allston. The Newton Post 48 American Legion Band of seventy-odd pieces was presented to the post. seventy-odd pieces was presented to the post OCTOBER was the month of the Legion Convention in OCTOBER was the month of the Legion Convention in Boston in which many Newton people were greatly interested. A huge dam in Vermont was named after Henry I. Harriman, widely known citizen of Newton. Albert D. Howlett was elected to the board of aldermen to fill the position held by Arthur J. Mansfield when the latter moved from the city. The high school football team won its first victory over Everett in pine long years. Regulations were made so over Everett in nine long years. Regulations were made so that in the future water bills will be sent out quarterly instead of annually.

NOVEMBER 4th brought Newton the title of the "banner Republican city of the Commonwealth" when over eighty per cent of the voters cast a normal G. O. P. vote in the face of a Democratic sweep, general throughout the state. Newton made to count to the utmost.

voters asked for the repeal of the Baby Volstead Act, making the second time the "wets" had a majority here. Unemployment conditions caused the formation of a Mayor's Relief Committee, headed by Leon B. Rogers. The death of Horace S. Cousens revealed another large bequest to the city made by his father, Horace Cousens some years ago. The income from a half million dollars is to be used in assisting Newton people of small means in providing homesteads for their families. Another important occasion was the dedication of the new high school stadium to the late Alfred W. Dickinson, beloved coach for many years, who passed beyond in 1927. coach for many years, who passed beyond in 1927.

DECEMBER was an eventful month. The first significant occurrence was a successful sticker campaign, the first of that nature in city politics, whereby a woman was elected to the school committee at an otherwise quiet and uneventful election. Later the aldermen amended the zoning ordinances placing most of the land in existing general residence zones into private residence districts and eliminating the possibility of any extensive apartment house developments in the future. A new bus terminal, convenience station, and other improve-ment of traffic conditions in Nonantum Square were recommended in a report of a committee of business men of that section. Proposed relocation of Ward lines; the route through Newton of the contemplated direct artery from Boston to Worcester; a new wing on the Bigelow school and other alterations making the completion of the junior high school system throughout the city a matter of months were other actions that are still furnishing material for discussion.

1931, if it maintains the pace set in 1930, should be an exceptional year for the Garden City.

HIS FIRST YEAR

We congratulate Mayor Weeks on the completion of his We congratulate Mayor Weeks on the completion of his first year during which many of the projects outlined in his inaugural address a year ago have been accomplished, or initial steps taken looking toward their final accomplishment. A few of these may well be cited here, although their present status is discussed in detail in Mayor Weeks' address to the 1931 Board of Aldermen printed in this weeks' issue, an address which we urge every citizen to read carefully. The first step was taken in the relocation of ward lines to give all wards more even representation in the legislative branches of the city government; zoning ordinances were changed to of the city government; zoning ordinances were changed to eliminate the possibility of undesirable apartment house deeliminate the possibility of undesirable apartment nouse developments; the construction of a new South Side junior high school was begun; the State legislature approved a bill allowing the city to borrow three-quarters of a million dollars for its new city hall and architects are now working on this project as well as that of a war memorial on the same site. The new fire alarm headquarters building in Newton Centre was opened and a new signal system substantially completed, which will lead it is hoped to a considerable saving in fire dollars. Announcement was made of the contemplated resignation in June of Miss Mabel Bragg, assistant superintendent of the Newton schools and a noted educator, in order that she might accept a higher position at Boston University. Newton's loss was B. U.'s gain.

APRIL showers sent the 1930 census takers out on their work of recording the fact that there were 65,276 inhabitants in the city of Newton on the first day of the month. This is now the fourth city of Middlesex County, being exceeded in population only by Cambridge, Somerville and Lowell. Our percentage of growth since 1920 was the third highest of any city in the Commonwealth, Medford leading with 53% and Quincy second with 50.4%. The appreciation of Dr. Fred M. Lowe, city physician and well-known practitioner, as manifested by his contemporaries on the hospital staff; the opening of the Waban Branch Library, the gift of the residents of that section; and the appointment of Father Walter Roche as pastor of the Catholic Church at Maynard after eleven years as assistant at the Church of Our Lady, Newton, where have a pressed a desire that the city fathers hold their committee was opened and a new signal system substantially completed, which will lead, it is hoped, to a considerable saving in fire insurance premiums paid by individuals; a comprehensive street program was undertaken with considerable improvement on the whole, and particularly parts of Commonwealth avenue, Beacon street, Centre street, Washington street program was undertaken with considerable improvement on the whole, and particularly parts of Commonwealth avenue, Beacon street, Centre street, Washington street program was undertaken with considerable improvement on the whole, and particularly parts of Commonwealth avenue, Beacon street, Centre street, has been done to a partial extent, although occasionally committee meetings have caused a recess to be requested. The Mayor also expressed his intention to enforce a business ad-Mayor also expressed his intention to enforce a business administration with an effort for increased efficiency. This also has been accomplished to a considerable degree. The one outstanding matter discussed by the Mayor that has not been accomplished is that of doing away with the preferential system of voting in Newton. This system is far from satisfactory in many ways, but it is also a certainty that a return to the party primary system would also have many disadvantages. Until some other system is devised it looks as though it would be best to "let the sleeping dog lie."

LOOKING INTO THE FUTURE

We are heartily in accord with Mayor Weeks in his recommendation regarding the matter of a purchasing agent for the City as well as a number of other matters he deals with in his 1931 address to the incoming Board of Aldermen. Looking forward we also see a new city hall, new court house, and new police headquarters building as new municipal and county construction projects; possibly a new junior high school for Waban and Upper Falls, possibly one or two new playground houses, continuation of the street improvement program, and (if the city's financial condition warrants the step), improvement in traffic conditions in Nonantum square. The principal thing not to be expected is a decrease in the tax rate. The increase in valuation in 1929 will not compare with the average of recent years and the increase in expendi-tures will necessitate careful planning to keep it at its present

DUPLICATION SAVED BY CLEAR ING HOUSE

The Christmas Clearing House, run at each holiday season by the Newton Central Council, listed 483 names this year of families for whom Christmas dinners were planned. Of these, 175 were duplications. Seventy-four names were sent in twice, and nine were sent in three times. In each case, if the name had not been checked with the Clearing House, some family would have had more than its share and another would have gone without—not because the needy family tried to get two dinners, but because the givers did not co-operate with other givers.

Remember that by using the Christmas Clearing House, every gift is

UNDER THE GILDED DOME

The 1931 General Court will start its year's work next Wednesday morning at 11 a. m. The date is fixed by the constitution which provides for the convening of the two branches on the first Wednesday in January. Also provision is made for the inauguration of the Governor on the Thursday following the first Wednesday. This means that after the Legislation has assembled next Wednesday and chosen its presiding officers, who will announce committees, there will be a lapse of twenty-four hours after which lapse of twenty-four hours after which Gov.-elect Joseph B. Ely will take the oath of office.

Mr. Ely will be the first Democratic

Governor since 1915 when United States Senator Devid I. Walsh con-

In the second term. Senator Devid I, Walsh concluded his second term. Senator Walsh was first elected in 1914, thus serving through 1914, they do not take office under 1914 and 1915. Although there will be a Democratic State Treasurer and State Auditor for the first time since the constitution until the third Wednesday in January when they, with the Secretary of State and Attorney General, will be sworn in.

Of the forty members of the State Senate ten will be Democrats, the largest number of members of the 240 members of the House of Representatives there are 99 Democrats, it who are officially designated as Republican-Democrat, one Independent Democrat and one elected on stickers, who is understood to be affiliated with the Democratic party. This is by far the biggest representation of Democrats in years. In spite of the increase in the number of Democrats it is a foregone conclusion that Speaker Leverett Saltonstall will be chosen to again preside over the House and President Gaspar G. Bacon of the Senate to again preside over the upper branch.

Newton's representation in the General Court remains the same, with Senator Hollis in the upper branch and Representatives Saltonstall, Luit-wieler, Baker and Thompson in the lower.

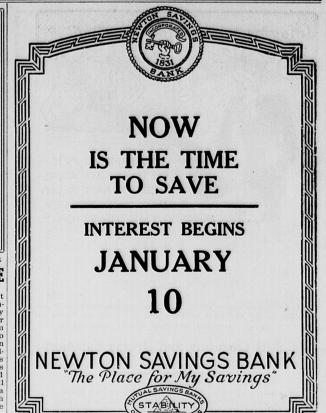

The 1931 Legislature is to receive a vast amount of information as the result of studies by various recess commissions. Some of the topics are as follows: laws relating to care of dependent, delinquent and neglected children; prevalence of addiction to habit-forming drugs; interstate rendition and extradition of fugitives from justice; accommodations for the Supreme Court and the Land Court; appropriate site, type and design for a fitting war memorial by the Commonwealth; advisability of requiring local tax payments in two or more instalments; revision of the tax laws; ways and means of paying cost of cold and contrained to the suprementation of the supremen a fitting war memorial by the Commonwealth; advisability of requiring local tax payments in two or more instalments; revision of the tax laws; ways and means of paying cost of Old Age Assistance plan; future policy of the Commonwealth in relation to the acquisition and maintenance of parks and reservations for recreational purposes and also relating to establishment and maintenance of wild life sanctuaries; improvement of highway conditions in certain towns in the Metropolitan district; taking over by the State of certain bridges on main highways; discharge of sewage into Boston Harbor and rivers and estuaries tributary thereto; laws relating to marine fish and fishers, including shellfish; construction by the State of a fish pier in Gloucester; terminal facilities and construction of a grain elevator in South Boston; purchase of stock by employes in co-operative shoe shops; promotion of sale of securities; causes and remedies of existing unemployment; conditions affecting the textile industry; operation of representative town meeting system and the establishment of a standard thereof; retirement allowances for employes of the State and of the Metropolitan District Commission; ways and means to cover the cost of service authorized by the new draft of the fire pre-the State and of the Metropolitan District Commission; ways and means to cover the cost of service authorized by the new draft of the fire prevention law; disposal of motor vehicles and licensing of motor vehicle junk yards, and laws, rules and regulations relating to professional boxing and wrestling.

Of the above studies nearly all have been reported upon. There will be a recommendation from the special commission on tax laws that no changes be made in the taxation laws during 1931 because of unsettled business conditions. This is looked upon as sound advice and will probably be heeded by both branches.

The future of the Boston Elevated will be one of the most discussed questions of the session. The fact that a majority of voters in the cities and towns served by the Elevated have registered themselves in favor of a continuation of public control is taken to mean that some sort of a public control bill will be passed. One measure has already been filed on petition of the representatives of organized labor. It would continue public control for 42 years and reduce the amount of guaranteed dividend on common stock from six to five percent. The belief is that a public control measure will be passed and signed the passed and signed the

At noon last Friday a blaze started in the cellar of the house at 95-97 Warwick road, West Newton, and spread through the partitions to the first and second floors doing considerable damage to the building and the furniture in the two apartments in the building. The first floor is occupied by Lawrence Manning and the upper apartment by Wallace Odell.

PARAMOUNT THEATRE

Harold Lloyd in "Feet First," his latest talkie, comes to the Paramount Theatre, Newton on Sunday for a fourday run. He is seen as an ambitious apprentice shoe clerk who gets into all kinds of humorous situations through his efforts to please his employer. After a series of thrilling as well as hazardous experiences he finally wins the girl, played by Barbara Kent. Others in the cast are Robert McWade, Alec Francis, and Lillianne Leighton.

Women to wait on table, wash dishes, cook dinners and do regular day work are registered both at the Mayor's Relief Committee, West Newton 2700 and the Newton Welfare Bureau, Newton North 0438.

WOMEN'S CLUB ACTIVITIES

COMING EVENTS

Waban Woman's Club

The Reverend John Nicol Mark, minister of the First Unitarian Church in Arlington, and one of the best known speakers of Greater Boston, will address the Waban Woman's Club on Monday afternoon, January 5. His subject is "Ethics of the Hearthstone", which he treats in humorous fashion. The sosocial hour will be in charge of Mrs. Lee Woolston, and she will be assisted by Mrs. Gifford Le Clear and Mrs. Ellis Gates at the tea table. The Reverend John Nicol Mark.

Auburndale Review Club

The Auburndale Review Club will meet January 6, at the home of Mrs. William P. DeWitt, 376 Central street at 10 a.m. The program of the morn-ing will be "Recent Discoveries", these to include papers by Club mem bers upon the Arctic, the Antarctic and the hero of the air, Lindbergh.

Newtonville Woman's Club

Miss Adele Neff, who delights her Miss Adele Neif, who delights her audiences with original monologues and songs, will entertain the members and friends of the Newtonville Wom-an's Club, on Tuesday afternoon, at 2:30 o'clock, on January 6, at the Central Congregational Church. The Central Congregational Cuttern. The Hospitality committee will serve tea, with Mrs. George A. Savage, Mrs. Clarence E. Thyng, and Mrs. Henry E. Weidner in charge, Mrs. William G. Bail, Mrs. John A. Fenno, Mrs. Charles W. Roife and Mrs. Edwin S. Woodbury will preside at the teatable.

Newton Upper Falls Woman's Club

On Monday evening, January 5, the Newton Upper Falls Woman's Club will have as its attraction a lecture on "The Psychology of Laughter," by Virginia Lind Buquo, A.B., A.M., a journalist; poet, author, and lecturer. The meeting will be held as usual in the Kindergarten Rooms of the Emerson School at 7:30 p. m. It is hoped the members will turn out to learn a little more about this "art" in which probably all the world can improve.

Woman's Club of Newton Highlands

The first meeting in the New Year of the Newton Highlands Woman's Club which is to be "Gentlemen's Night", will be held on January 8, at 8 o'clock in the Parish House of the Congregational Church. At this meeting each member is entitled to invite one guest. For more than one guest, tickets at the regular price may be procured at the door.

It is with regret that the Program committee has been obliged to change the plans for the evening. Mr. Harold C. Keyes, former operative in the United States Secret Service, who was to have been the speaker of the evening, has been obliged to cancel his engagement owing to the fact that an important case calls him to Europe. Instead of adventures and daring beneath the surface of the sea. Through special permission granted by the Navy Department, First Gunner's Mate, Tom Eadie, U. S. N., will speak on his work as diver. Mr. Eadie ranks as master diver of the Navy, and as such was first on the scene at the time of the disasters to the S-51 and S-4. He gives a vivid account of his sensations when on the deck of the sum time he received from President Coolidge the Congressional Medal of Honor, the highest honor awarded by the Navy. On Friday, January 9, at 10 o'clock, in the Workshop, the Club Chorus will hold its first rehearsal. Mrs. Thomas D. Ginn will be the leader and Mrs. Maurice A. Reidy the accompanist. All who are interested in singing are cordially invited. There will be a small fee for membership.

Social Science Club

The Social Science Club will hold its regular Business Meeting on January 7, at 10 a.m. at the Hunnewell Club. After the business meeting, a Talk, sponsored by the Women's Advisory Committee of the Newton Trust Company, will be given. The hostesses are to be Mrs. William F. Garcelon and Mrs. George L. Parker.

Newton Community Club

On Thursday afternoon, January 8, Captain H. Plunkett Woodgate will give an illustrated lecture before the Newton Community Club, in the Underwood School Hall. The subject, "An Irishman in Darkest Africa" tells of his many years in Africa, which he describes as a man-country where adventure, humor and danger go hand in hand. His travels all over the world which have given him vision and experience makes him now rank as one of the foremost of British lecturers.

Auburndale Woman's Club

The first meeting of the Auburndale Woman's Club for the New Year will be held on Thursday afternoon, at 2:30 o'clock, January 8. Eunice Browning Prellwitz will entertain with a group of character studies. Mrs. Prellwitz, who, is a member of the Club, is a graduate of the Edith Coburn Noyes School, and has done much dramatic work with the Auburndale Players, and with several similar neighboring dramatic groups.

A Few Observations On Domestic Relations

By EARL G. MANNING

Trust Company.

Not long ago, as I was walking up from the North Station, I observed a crowd, half way down a narrow side street, just back of the Relief Station in Haymarket square, Boston.

Being rather curious, I walked over and found out that two teamsters were having just the nicest kind of a rough and tumble fight.

I watched it for about five minutes, until the patrol wagon hove into sight with half a dozen copes, marvelling how any two human beings could take as much punishment as both did, and still be conscious.

I stayed just long enough to find out that one of these teamsters had made a very uncomplimentary remark to the other, regarding the ancestry on the maternal side of the other—and this coming after a spirited argument regarding one having pre-empted the stand usually occupied by the other in the square.

Great is the power of the spoken word!

As I continued my walk up town to word!

As I continued my walk up town to the office, I wondered just how nations could ever agree not to fight each other, when individuals are moved to try and annihilate each other over such a commonplace thing as the parking of a horse and team in a certain space near a Relief Hospital. As I still further ruminated, I happened to remember a remark I once heard, which is attributed to Justice Brandeis of the Supreme Court.—
"Most of humanity is engrossed"

"Most of humanity is engrossed with, and talks about, only three subjects—people, places and things."

If this is true, it would seem that it is given to only the few to wrestle with the problems which are so necessary to be solved, so that all humanity may have the security and opportunity to discuss these three things—it olive their more or less circumscribed lives, and to bring up their children to do the same.

This leads me to a subject which I am fully aware is a rather delicate one to discuss—and that is—domestic relations. The reason I dare to attempt it is because it has a very important bearing in running the home at a profit, financially and culturally. In all the preceding articles which have been published in the Graphic I have tried to show that there are certain fundamental things which have to be observed in the proper management of the home, of a material nature.

observed in the proper management of the home, of a material nature.

No matter how well a home may be run, as far as the mechanical details of how the daily tasks are performed, the character of the cultural out-put of it will depend upon how harmonious and attractive are the domestic relations within it.

ious and attractive are the domestic relations within it. Environment, according to those whose life work is devoted to child welfare, has a tremendous bearing on the type of children which will come out of the home to be new home makers in future. They seem to be agreed also on one other fundamental.—Children must have a sense of security, something tangible to tie to in a material sense, which can be epitomized in our word "home."

Of course, it goes without saying that if there is discord, bickering, continual criticism in the home, even adults find it difficult to live together. I met a man not long ago who told welfare, has a tremendous bearing on the type of children which will come out of the home to be new home makers in future. They seem to be agreed also on one other fundamental.—Children must have a sense of security, something tangible to tie to in a material sense, which can be epitomized in our word "home."

Of course, it goes without saying that if there is discord, bickering, continual criticism in the home, even adults find it difficult to live together. I met a man not long ago who told me that as early as he could remember his father and mother used to "scrap" all the time.

His father was a travelling salestman, and from the moment he returned from a trip until he left for another, most of the time was taken up in criticizing his wife about what she had done and what she hadn't.

"It isn't strange," said he to me "that when I was old enough to feel that I could earn my own living I got out of my home as soon as I could."

The inability to discuss anything other than places, people and things.

Soo anxious to further the social position of her daughter that she will daughter that she will have a sent of surface of surface of surface of surface and a dinner and a dance afterward?

If your child is among those invited, can you deny her the privilege of gother was a dinner and a dance afterward?

If you child is among those invited, can you deny her the privilege of gother was the won't be invited again.

What if your child has all these things before the time when they are usually most enjoyable.—after mariage? And what can one expect but dissensions, if the family income is not large enough to grant them without going into debt?

Far be it from me to try and solve the problem.

I know it is present in practically every household, including my own.

I did dare to have the temerity to discuss it because I feel that healthy exchange of ideas on any subject sometimes develops solutions to even the most intricate of problems.

(Copyright by Earl G. Manning, 1930)

This is the eleventh article of the series written by Mr. Manning, touching on the subject of domestic relations, which is a part of the discussion Mr. Manning is conducting before the Women's Clubs of Newton under the auspices of the Newton Trust Company.

Not long ago, as I was walking upfrom the North Station, I observed a crowd, half way down a narrow side street, just back of the Relief Station in Haymarket square, Boston.

Being rather curious, I walked over and found out that two teamsters were having just the nicest kind of a rough and tumble fight.

I watched it for about five minutes, until the patrol wagon hove into sight with half a dozen cops, maryelling how any two human beings could take as much punishment as both did, and still be conscious.

I stayed just long enough to find upon the very persons who should make it attractive enough for the child to develop normally and healthily in the home.

After this same meeting I discussed this matter with a school teacher who lives in Lynn, and who teaches a domestic science class. When I asked her if she had observed this same thing, she said, "I think sixty per cent. of all the pupils in my classes are in an environment at home which does not permit of the fullest growth and is the cause of a lot of minor infractions of school rules which we, as teachers, are supposed to correct."

After all, who can be blamed for the situation? We are in a fast-moving civilization where everybody wants to do what everybody else does, and where the income is just so much and cannot be stretched, most people accede to desires before they square them with their incomes. Naturally, turnoil must result, criticism and an unhealthful situation.

This is apparent more on the lower incomes than on the higher brackets, but even there we find a situation which is in a measure analogous.

I have observed myself that the fathers and mothers of today are just about as anxious to enjoy the worth while things of life as the youngsters. Where the youngster sees that the whole intent of the father and mother is to enjoy life and "let the devil take the hindmost," so to speak, it isn't surprising that the regulation of the new generation that is coming up, is a tremendous problem, and that their desires and wishes are all out of reason with what has been experienced by the preceding generation.

It takes a great deal of courage for a father and mother to tell their son or daughter that they must wait until they are seventeen or eighteen years of age before they can begin to enjoy to the fullest that which it has taken years for the father and mother to obtain. The pressure of the youngsters is so great in the majority of cases that they are allowed to do pretty much as they wish. This seems to be the problem which is one of the foremost in every household to be solved.

At the NEW YEAR'S. DAWNING

It is pleasant as this new year dawns to review the friendly relations we have had with so many members of this community. We hope that they have enjoyed dealing with us as much as we have with them.

We have endeavored to do our best as heating advisors and as fuel suppliers. We expect to give even better service in the year just starting.

But today, we pause in our labors to say, "Happy New Year" to everyone. May each day be brighter than the day before, and may 1931 go down into history as the best year yet.

ABOUT TOWN

The newspapers have been giving much space to the extravagant debut of a young woman at Washington, D. B. C., last week. According to reports it was to cost well into six figures in the attempt to catapalt this debutante into "high society". Some papers condemned this big expenditure of money as deplorable in view of the prevailing hard times. Other papers praised the wealthy step-papa of the debutante for loosening up and putting so much cash into circulation, Folks who attempt to make both ends meet, financially, should make allowance in the budget-book they get from a certain oil company which advertises by radio for a considerable expenditure for the debut of their daughters, if they have any.

This is to remind citizens of Newton

This is to remind citizens of Newton that the ordinances if this city compel persons to shovel snow and scrape off sidewalks in front of their premises. This rule applies to concrete and granolithic sidewalks, not gravel sidewalks. If this rule were obeyed by all residents and business men subject to it and enforced by the police, walking during the winter months would be much safer, especially for old persons.

Mr. Irving Comey of Oakland street, Newton, who was the victim of a "hit and run" automobile driver on the night of December 6, is gradually improving at his home. Among the other injuries received by Mr. Comey were a number of broken ribs, one of which punctured a lung.

Massachusetts enacted a law making it mandatory on judges to sentence drunken drivers to jail for a second offence. It is about time that this State enact a law making it mandatory on judges to sentence to jail for a long term any dastard found guilty of "hit and run" driving. This despicable phase of man's inhumanity to man has become all too prevalent.

TO CONFER ON NEW CITY HALL

A conference will be held tonight at the Mayor's office between the Mayor, the aldermen and citizens committees on the new City Hall and the architects. Plans for the new municipal capitol have practically been completed and will be submitted for approval by the committees. It is noped to start work on the combined city hall and War Memorial as soon as weather permits.

Mayor Sinclair Weeks will introduce Major Harwood Steele at the illustrated lecture on the "Royal Canadian Mounted Police" to be given Jan. 4 at 3 p. m. åt the Auditorium of the Newton High School. Mayor Weeks will also make a short statement of the work of the Stearns School Centre for whose benefit the lecture is being given.

INSPECT SIDEWALK PLOW

A demonstration of a sidewalk plow operated by a motor was given Tuesday morning near City Hall to Mayor Weeks. A motor-operated plow might function on certain wide sidewalks in this city but it would be useless on a large percentage of the walks because of obstructing trees and poles. If a motor-operated plow which would clear gutters and prevent puddles at street intersections were devised it might be used to advantage.

Cousens Property Is Again Under Consideration

Another hearing will be held on Monday night, January 19 at City Hall on the petition of Charles W. Wallour and other residents of Newton Centre to have land on Beacon street between 698 Beacon and Glenavenue changed from General Residence to Single Residence zone. This land was formerly owned by Harriet S. Cousens and by the will of herbrother and heir, the late Horace Cousens, the estate was bequeathed in large part to the Newton Hospital. A hearing was held some weeks agobefore the Claims and Rules Committee on a similar petition and leave to withdraw was recommended with the understanding that this matter would come up before the 1931 Board of Aldermen again for further consideration.

WOMAN'S ASSOCIATION OF CENTRAL CHURCH

The Annual Meeting was held on Wednesday, January 7th, and was an occasion of unusual interest, giving a survey of the past year's activities and pledges of future usefulness. Mrs. and pledges of future usefulness. Mrs. Waybright, the recording secretary, gathered together the threads of the subject weaving an effective picture of the work of the various committees. Miss Emma Miller, treasurer, showed the practical sides as expressed in contributions to objects worthy of assistance, and in money spent on the upkeep of our church home and organization. The Bazaar held in November continues to yield results so that as yet no final account can be given of the receipts but up-to-date they are $1813.00, and reward the untiring efforts of the different committees.

Plans were made for the entertainment of Suffolk District Department of Woman's Work on January 16th. It is estimated that there will be 300 in attendance at this conference. Mrs Arthur. H. Burdick with the assistance attendance at this conference. Mrs. Arthur, H. Burdick with the assistance of a caterer will make arrangements for the luncheon. Mrs. W. E. Strong spoke in behalf of the Woman's Seaman's Friend Society. She hoped that the auxiliary would again take second place on the list of contributing members. Some have not renewed their membership but the cause so sympathetically and attractively described by Mrs. Strong cannot fail to appeal to all interested in these brave sailors. Only a small sum is asked and it is a privilege to have a share in this work. The nominating committee, Mrs. W. H. Hunt, chairman, gave its report which was accepted and the following officers elected:

President, Mrs. R. E. Chambers; First Vice-president, Mrs. H. O. Williams; Second Vice-president, Mrs. Horace Orr; Recording Secretary, Mrs. Howard M. Waybright; Corresponding Secretary, Mrs. Robert C. Kelley; Treasurer, Miss Emma A. Miller; Assistant Treasurer, Miss Bertha E. Miller; Auditor, Mrs. H. H. Lounsbury, Directors: Finance, Mrs. R. W. Conant; Housekeeping, Mrs. Fred M. Blanchard; Luncheon, Mrs. Arthur H. Burdick; Publicity, Mrs. C. W. Auryansen; World Missions, Mrs. Charles W. Stewart; Nominating Committee, Mrs. E. R. Day.

At the devotional meeting, Mrs.

sen; World Missions, Mrs. Charles W. Stewart; Nominating Committee, Mrs. E. R. Day.

At the devotional meeting, Mrs. Thomas Brooks read from the Bible, Mrs. Henry H. Greene played for the singing, and prayer was offered by Miss Isabelle M. Chute. A letter was read from the missionary of the Association, Miss Abbe Wallace, and also a letter of thanks from Miss Chute for the Christmas gift presented by several of the church organizations.

The speaker of the afternoon, Mrs. Elbert A. Harvey, gave an inspiring talk on "The Woman and Her Church." She made a strong plea for advance and questioned whether woman's work in the church had kept pace with her work in other fields such as club, business and education. "Are we doing any differently from our mothers and grandmothers of 60 years ago," she asked. From the kitchen and its provision for church suppers, perhaps there had been advance to the church parlor and an aloof interest in world affairs. Let us take our place in the living room, and concern our selves with the pressing problems of life, be a power in our communities. She referred to the attitude of mod. world affairs. Let us take our place in the living room and concern ourselves with the pressing problems of life, be a power in our communities. TWELFTH NIGHT REVELS

Twelfth Night Revels were held last Tuesday evening at the Channing Parish House. As was the custom in the days of old England, a huge cake was brought in, and the man to find the lucky bean in his piece was chosen king of the Revels. Dr. Sawyer found the bean, and with Miss Anna Bartlett as his queen was crowned king of the Revels.

Entertainment followed which included a review of the army and navy, a few vocal selections by a group of strolling minstrels; solos by Gypsy John, an Italian baritone; and an exhibition of Spanish dancing. The Revels then ended and everybody joined in dancing for the rest of the evening. Many attractive costumes made it a very colorful occasion.

ANNUAL DOLL PARADE

W. C. T. U.

In spite of the fact that the day set was a holiday, New Year's Day, earnest women of the Newton W. C. T. U. met with Mrs. Arthur C. Cushing, of Brighton, for a service of prayer, led by the President, Mrs. Goddard.

This was in commemoration of the National Prohibition birthday, January 1920.

The spirit of the meeting was of renewed hopefulness and trust, mindful of the slogan, "Not by might, nor by power, but by my spirit, saith the Lord of Hosts."

The annual Doll Parade was held at The Paramount Theatre on Wednesday afternoon before a crowded house mostly of children. There were twenty-eight beautifully decorated Doll Carriages and fifty of more dolls without carriages. The prize winners were: Doll and Carriage is prize, engraved Gold Loving Cup, Jeane Rogers, daughter of Mrs. and Mrs. Geo. B. Rogers of Pearl street; dolls alone, 1st prize, Patricia Swift, daughter of Mrs. Ethel Swift of Centre street. Other prizes were given to the next four winners.

The theft of an Irish setter dog by a young girl caused Inspector Richard Goode of the Newton police to make a trip to Grand Falls, New Brunswick last week and sent the girl to the Lancaster Reform School for three months. The girl, Daphne Mc-Laughlin, was employed for a week as a maid at the home of Dudley Todd, 64 Oakcliff road, Newtonville. She disappeared on November 29th and at the same time the valuable hunting dog went. The Newton police were notified and when it was learned that the girl was with her father in New Brunswick, Inspector Goode departed for the Canadian town and arrived back with the girl last Friday night. But, he did not find the dog. According to the story told by the girl, the Irish setter followed her when she departed from the Todd residence. She was hitch-hiking to Canada and the dog escaped while the McLaughlin girl was getting a ride in a truck along the Newburyport turnpike. In the Newton court on Monday she was sentenced to the Lancaster School. The dog was found by Frank Hobbs of North Hampton, N. H., and returned to its owner.

TWO RECORDS SET AT ALUMNI MEET

An all-star array of alumni track athletes downed the Newton high performers on the Newton track last Friday evening, 51 to 26. Despite the one-sided score the events were closely contested and the schoolboys were not as greatly outclassed as indicated. Two new records were set when James Colligen of the high school team tossed the shot 49 feet 10 inches to break the old mark held by Carl Pescosolido now of Harvard and when Tom Clausen, now wearing the colors of the B. A. A., lowered his own mark in the 1000-yard run from 2 m., 25 4-5 seconds to 2 m., 25 seconds flat.

Eight of the dozen alumni competitors divided the 51 points between them. An indication of the strength of these eight performers can be noted from the fact that seven of them are members of various college teams and one a prominent runner for the B. A. A. Two of the octet, Wallace Fullerton and Ted Hammond are on the Penn State track team. They tallied eighteen points with Fullerton also running on the winning relay team. Hammond led the individual scorers with ten points. Fullerton scored eight points with a first and second. Harvard's freshman representative, Carl Pescosolido also scored eight points with a first and second. Romaine Cole of the Tufts track team, tied for one first place, and took a third for a total of five points to tie McCrudden of Northeastern and Clausen of the B. A. A. with five points each. M. I. T.'s two representatives, Hall a freshman and Kinraide a junior scored three and two points respectively.

The relay race was one of the most exciting races of the evening. The high school quartet of Holmes, Mouser, Cahill and Bradley seemed destined to win over the alumni four of Fullerton and maintained his advantage over the two laps. Mouser and Clausen were the second runners and neither could gain on the other. McCrudden made several unsuccessful attempts to pass Cahill but the latter fought him off all the way. Cahill and Bradley failed to connect smoothly when the former tried to pass the batton to his teammate and Cole j

In the dash four trial heats and two semi-finals brought two alumni and two undergraduates to the start-ing line. Carl Pescosolido, Harvard freshman, and Bob Kinraide, M. I. T. ing line. Carl Pescosolodo, Harvard freshman, and Bob Kinraide, M. I. T. junior, represented the graduates and Walter Holmes and Captain Milton Green the schoolboys. Pescosolido won although pushed by Holmes with Kinraide third by the narrowest of margins over Green. Wallace Fullerton, former Newton captain, and versatile star now at Penn State, was shut out in his semi-final heat.

In the hurdles Fullerton came through to win over Greene with Romaine Cole, Tufts, third.

The 300-yard run was held in heats against time with Alfred Mouser of the high school and Cole of the Alumni tying for first in 36 4-5 seconds. Kinraide of M. I. T. made the third best time. Mouser of Newton had things all his own way in his heat and was not pushed. Had he met with competition he might well have beaten Cole's time for the best effort.

SCHOOL QUINTET TRIMS FACULTY

The Newton high school basketball team will open its season tomorrow afternoon meeting the Watertown high quintet on the Watertown floor. Watertown opened its season on Tuesday defeating Hingham high by a comfortable margin. Coach Frank Simmons of the orange and black five has chosen a team with promising ability as indicated by a 59 to 32 trimming it handed a team of faculty members Wednesday afternoon at the local high school.

it handed a team of faculty members Wednesday afternoon at the local high school.

Richard Bailey, right forward, is captain of the quintet. He played with the second team last year and was one of its leading performers. The left forward berth is still a toss-up between Robert Seaver and Warren Huston. Seaver also played with the second team last winter while Huston is a sophomore. At centre George Jones, elongated colored lad, and Perry Elrod, football and baseball athlete, are staging a close race for the starting berth. Jones is the better jumper but Elrod is the more aggressive. When Elrod can get the jump on his opponent Coach Simmons will probably give him the call but when necessary to get the tip-off Jones will take the floor. A quartet of guards have furnished each other plenty of competition during the practice sessions of the past several weeks. Frank Wetherbee, a transfer from Mitchell Military Academy a year ago, and Bob Patterson, football centre, have the call over George Gulian, football guard, and Jack Wideig. Wetherbee was an outstanding three sport athlete at the military school, participating in football, basketball and baseball. Quinlan is another forward who will relieve Capt. Bailey. With these ten men as a varsity squad Coach Simmons hopes to develop a team that will furnish keen competition for the various opponents on the schedule during the next two months.

Against the faculty on Wednesday Bailey and Wetherbee led the way with twelve points each. Huston and Seaver duplicated each other's efforts by tallying eight points apiece. Elrod and the remaining seven points were divided between Quinlan with 4, Wideig with 2 and Patterson 1.

Harvard's undefeated hockey team plastered the University of Toronto with a 9 to 0 shut-out at the Boston Garden Wednesday night in the second meeting of the two teams this season. With Coach Joe Stubbs' outfit traveling on high it is doubtful if the absence of three Toronto regulars lost them the game although if they had been on hand the score might have been held down somewhat. Johnny Garrison of West Newton, a former Country Day school star, was one of the Crimson's three big guns. He scored twice and assisted in another tally. Garrison had the first real shot of the night but Ames, Toronto goalie, handled it nicely for a save. Later in the first period Garrison beat the Toronto net guardian on a solo dash right up to the mouth of the cage. Less than two minutes after the second period opened the West Newton youth scored his second goal on a massed attack by the Crimson forward line. Before the cheering had ceased he passed out from behind the visitors' net to Cunningham who banged home the third tally 39 seconds later. Wilson Crosby, another West Newton youth and an Exetracademy product, again started on the defense for Harvard.

The 600-yard run brought another first place to the alumni when Jimmie McCrudden, Northeastern University star and holder of the New England A. A. U. record for the distance, won about as he pleased over Vincent Signore and Richard Jarrell of the high school who placed second and third, In the 1000-yard run Clausen took the lead from the start and ran a pretty race well ahead of the field. Charlie Hall, 1930 high school captain, who has been running excellently for the M. I. T. freshmen during the fall. cross-country and handicap met season, let Clausen get too far ahead in the early part of the race. With the closing laps Hall began to close up the distance and at the tap was but five yards behind the former Newton captain and Holy Cross athlete. George Lamb of the high school finished third, passing Fred Burton now of Bewdoin, less than a lap from home.

The field events gave the alumnimore of a lead when two of the three first places were captured by Ted Hammond, a teammate of Fullerton's at Penn State. Hammond won the high jump with a leap of 5 feet 9\frac{3}{2}$ inches and also took the broad jump with 10 feet 2 inches. Fullerton took second in the broad jump with a leap of 5 feet 9\frac{3}{2}$ inches and also took the broad jump with 10 feet 2 inches. Plan Eligibility Survey

The Mass. High Schools Athletic Association at a meeting at Boston last Saturday voted to adopt two recommendations of the executive board.
One was that no changes in the eligibility rules be made during 1931 which means that the so-called "three-year" rule will stand for the present. This rule resulted in the withdrawal of 13 schools mostly from the western part of the state and six of the Connecticut valley league. The second recommendation adopted was that a committee of 12, one from each district, be elected to make a thorough investigation and collect data on eligibility rules and report to the executive board on December first. This report may result in the amending of the present "three-year" rule.

Hamilton Kollmyer, former Newton high and Exeter track star and one of the outstanding performers of the 1930 Harvard freshman team, is a fine prespect for the Crimson varsity this winter. Harvard retains two of its world record relay team of last year in Captain Vernon Munroe and Eugene Record. Kollmyer and Phil Dodge, the latter captain of last year's freshman team, are leading candidates to team up with the two veterans. Kollmyer was timed in 49 1-5 seconds in the 440 in the freshman meet with Yale last year wire. While reads and black played its first game outhaulter. He is one of 41 candidates, mostly veterans, who have been selected for the training table. The Crimson opens its season with the K. to C. games on Jan. 31. The freshman this year have some exceptional talent with which to form a nucleus, among the athletes being Carl Prescosido of Newton and Deerfield academy.

The Yale hockey team defeated Boston University on Wednesday in the first period Allie Fletcher's dodging and his pass to Nelson scored the third Blue counter. Midway through the final session Fletcher caught the rubber on a rebound for Yale's eighth and final goal. In the second period Arthur Wilson, Newton youth and Terrier centre ice, injured his elbow and was forced to retire from the game. Holmes Whitmore, Newton Highlands youth and B. MEN'S BUSINESS SUITS

Many really believe that Dry Cleansing a man's suit shortens its life. Truly this is not so—as a matter of absolute fact, proper cleaning lengthens the life of the suit. Too many suits are "pressed only" that should be cleaned before pressing. Pressing a suit when it is soiled is very bad for it; but there is a great difference in cleansing. Your suit should be returned with colors bright, snappy—no odor and no oil left in it to collect soil the first day you wear it.

You will find it difficult to get the kind of cleaning and pressing we do on men's suits at the price—$1.50. Forty-eight hour service and daily collection and delivery.

At the Monday luncheon meeting of the Newton Rotary Club, which was presided over by Mr. Frank Richardson, Dr. Cecil Clark, a very active and enthusiastic member and former president, gave a practical talk on what the club should mean to each member in the new year. The Rotary spirit of service should go into the home and into the contacts of the members through their business and professional interests. Dr. Clark gave instances of how members of the Newton Club had infused a better spirit into certain professional organizations. He also spoke of the importance of fostering a sense of humor. See at least one funny thing a day and pass it on. At the close, in a very effective manner, Dr. Clark addressed himself, supposedly sitting in the empty chair before him, on his own responsibilities for the new year.

ONE THING AND ANOTHER By L. D. G. BENTLEY

As if further argument were needed, which, of course, it isn't, there are many more things than were said last week in this column about the satisfaction that comes to us in various forms as residents of a suburb. I well remember a man once remarked to me that he was glad that his business was located in Boston rather than New York. "You are certain, in the course of a year," said he, "to bump into a friend whom you have not seen for a long time. Meetings between old neighbors and acquaintances are even more frequent than that. That's the advantage of Boston as compared with New York. In Boston we are sure to meet each other on Washington street or some much traveled section because about everybody has an errand that takes him down there. You could live in New York a lifetime and never run into a friend."

Now let us take a common meeting place for exhabitation.

people commented freely on the beauty of the picture as one gazes across the Common.

I scarcely need dwell on the sentiments of all Massachusetts residents toward the State House and its grounds and would not at this time were it not for the fact that something has occurred within the past week which seems to settle for good and all any idea of more buildings on these grounds. One who has ventured further than Beacon street to the rear of the building knows that there are stretches of lawn bordered by Bowdoin street and Derne street and thereon rest not only the Beacon monument but the General Banks and General Devens.

The proposal has been in the air some time to erect a building for the Supreme Court and the Land Court on the lawn where now stand the monuments referred to above. The matter got so far last year that a special commission was authorized to consider the feasibility of such a plan. Mark you, this special commission was not to find a place for the Supreme and Land Courts, which, by the way, are in dire need of greater accommodations than now furnished in the Pemberton Square courthouse, but to decide whether the State House grounds offered a suitable site.

There can be no misunderstanding of the report of the special commission made public the other day. Its members do not believe that it would be practicable to attempt the erection of a building there. They point out that the statues to Gen. Banks and Gen. Devens would have to be removed entirely and that Beacon monument transferred to a different spot on the grounds. They see no solution of the problem of congestion that now exists in the taking of any part of the State House lawn and believe that if any building were erected it would be large enough only for a time and that eventually there would be a demand for a still large structure.

To me this seems an answer to a suggestion that needed only to be studied to be proved impracticable.

als but is against the State House grounds as a selection. Can't you see what a lot of trouble we are to be spared if this recommendation is accepted, which, of course, it will be. Uprooting the statues to Gen. Bank and Gen. Devens and shifting the Beacon monument would never be acceptable to a majority of our people.

Nothing has quite upset me as much

Twice during the storm of late December I shoveled a place from the edge of the sidewalk out to the street. This was for delivery trucks, with New Year's gifts or anybody who might call by automobile. And no sooner had I got a nice job done that along came a sort of spreader-plow and filled the whole space up again. Not once, but twice in both storms this Winter. Get a plow that will prevent that sort of thing and I'm for it. Otherwise I'm pretty sore at these street cleaners who throw the snow back on the sidewalks. Who isn't, I ask you?

DINNER MEETING. Announcement is made of the cancellation of the Reception and Dinner planned for the evening of Wednesday, the 21st, at the Hotel Statler, at which time Mrs. Saidie Orr Dunbar was to have spoken, as well as past presidents of the State Federation. Mrs. Dunbar will give the address planned on the afternoon program of the regular Midwinter meeting day. Thursday, the 22nd.

In a special message to the Clubs, Mrs. Carl L. Schrader, State president, writes: "The generous and whole-hearted manner in which the women of the State Federation have taken up the slogan of the Governor's unemployment committee, "Give until the leps—buy until it helps," has caused the president's council to conclude that further solicitation whilt he dinner meeting planned for Wednesday, January 21, of necessity would involve, would be unwise at this time and that the cancellation of this meeting would readily be accepted in this spirit by the members of whose loyalty I am very prout. The all-day mid-winter meeting will take place as announced on Thursday, January 22, at the Hotel Statler, Boston.

WELFARE CHEST, Continuing in the thought of Mrs. Schrader's above message, the cause of her decision may be realized by reading her third weekly letter sent out explaining the services that are being rendered by the committee appointed by Governor's Club of West Newton; Wednesday, January 22, at the Hotel Statler, Boston.

all-day mid-winter meeting will take place as announced on Thursday, January 22, at the Hotel Statler, Boston.

WELFARE CHEST. Continuing in the thought of Mrs. Schrader's above message, the cause of her decision may be realized by reading her third weekly letter sent out explaining the services that are being rendered by the committee appointed by Governor Allen to aid those in distress, of which division of women the State Federation president is chairman, working so valiantly at John Hancock building hall, 90 St. James avenue, Boston. She says:

"In its initial test the Commonwealth welfare chest has proved its value and its place in the community at this particular time. Of course the chest is not and was not a seasonal institution, but the pre-Christmas work and the ability to bring relief before Christmas day constituted a sort of test and the results show that a vast amount of good was done.

"Clothing for between 6000 and 7000 persons was distributed to the more than 2200 persons who applied to the chest for relief, before the headquarters closed for distribution at noon on Wednesday, December 24. Of course we feel it is a tribute to the fine women, who gave their time in the interests of the chest, but it also seems to prove that the chest has a definite, useful and needed place in the community at this time.

"But the work of the chest is a work that must be continued, until the present emergency has completely passed, And if the work is to continue, donations of clothing must continue to be sent to the cheet headquarters at the John Hancock building, 90 St. James avenue, Boston. We need all kinds of warm clothing to meet the demands of needy persons during the winter months and as a result of what has already been done look with confidence to the women's organizations of the state to keep our headquarters well stocked with all the necessary articles. We ask your continued and continuous assistance, until the need for the Commonwealth welfare chest has passed."

until the need for the Commonwealth welfare chest has passed."

GEORGE WASHINGTON BICENTENNIAL IN 1932. Patriots will be enthused over the plans for tribute to the "greatest man that America has known" and some even add "that America can ever know". The "Father of his Country", whose building of a united nation can never be gainsaid or dimmed, by whatever feeble wits of notoriety-seeking writers, is being studied, admired, humbly lauded in these days preliminary to February 22, 1932.

Now that the Tercentenary of the Massachusetts Bay Colony fades into the background with the passing of 1930, comes news of another celebration of equal consequence to the citizenry of these United States, the two hundredth anniversary of the birth of George Washington. A nation-wide celebration of this event is already being planned by the George Washington Bicentennial Commission, created by a joint resolution of Congress, from February 22nd to Thanksgiving Day, 1932.

Women's Clubs, together with all other organizations, will be asked to make fitting observance of this anniversary of the birth of George Washington, thereby commemorating the first true American in exact keeping with the motive expressed by Congress, "that future generations of American citizens may live according to the example and precepts of his exalted life and character and thus perpetuate the American Republic."

Mrs. John D. Sherman, past president of the General Federation of Women's Clubs, as one of eight Presidential Commissioners, has enlisted the interest of Mrs. Carl L. Schrader, State president, appointed to the executive committee of Massachusetts by Governor Allen. In Massachusetts this committee is headed by Dr. Albert Bushnell Hart of Harvard, also historian for the national commission. A very complete booklet of suggestions for programs for clubs and other organizations, with lists of authorities for reference, has been issued and every possible help will be given by the Commission.

It is the wish of Mrs. Schrader that every Club in Massachusetts make worthy recognition of this significant anniversary. It is none too early to begin to make plans, so that the celebrations of the Women's Clubs of the Bay State shall stand out conspicuously in the nation-wide observance of the birth of George Washington in 1732.

CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR NEWS

February second marks the fiftieth anniversary of the founding of Christian Endeavor by Rev. and Mrs. Francis E. Clark in the Williston Congregational Church, Portland, Maine, in 1881. Many societies in Norumbega Union have already started plans for some special meeting to take place in their church during Golden Jubilee Week, January 25-February 1st.

Last Sunday evening the nomination committee at the Lincoln Park Baptist C. E. Society was appointed by the president, Newton Jones, as follows: Betty Brooks, Charlotte Stearns, Corinne Boyd, Clayton Foster and Melvin Lane. On Sunday, January 25th, the election of officers will take place, these new officers being installed on Sunday, February 1st.

ABOUT TOWN

By Edw. H. Powers

A Boston politician, or statesman, has introduced a bill which would lessen the punishment prescribed for those found guilty of committing second degree murder. Instead of having such offenders sentenced to life imprisonment he would make this type of homicide punishable with a jail sentence of 20 years, if the judge saw fit. Isn't it nice that those humans who allow their anger, or their indulgence in crime to cause them to deprive fellow humans of life, are obtaining more and more kindly consideration? Between making murder easier to commit, and the indifference with which slaughter by autemobiles is regarded, perhaps the unemployment situation can be somewhat solved, and the Malthusian theory substantiated.

radio broadcasting resulted from contributions made to the advancement of wireless telegraphy by Guglielmo Marconi, and that Signor Marconi's mother was a member of Guinness family of Dublin which achieved fame and fortune by brewing malt liquor of superior quality. And then, musing on the fact that millions of persons in this country regard such malt liquors as abominable, and the laws of this country forbid its sale, except for medicinal purposes, we wondered if these persons, enjoying radio reception, and realizing that Marconi's financial circumstances assisted him in his scientific research, would admit that "Out of evil comes good."

The other Sunday afternoon we were among the millions who had the privilege of listening to one of setting of the pung and jogging along for a stretch as the horses plodded along. Those who wanted to travel in real style engaged the big "boat sleigh" from Cate's livery stable at West Newton. This big sleigh, named the SNOW BIRD, w

Do you remember a few years ago when everything was booming how optimistic folks were? A lot of people thought the millennium was rapidly approaching and our machine age civilization had become so wonderfully ly efficient that poverty and misery would soon be reduced to a minimum in this favored country. It would have been difficult then to convince those optimists that so many persons in this fair land would be in impoverished circumstances today.

THE BEST STREET SURFACE

While we agree that Newton's street improvement program should be continued this year we do not agree with Mayor Weeks in his statement that "the best and most permanent surface available" has been used during 1930 on the main thoroughfares of the city. The most permanent surface is concrete and Newton has but a few hundred yards of such road in all of its miles of streets. That stretch was laid in road in all of its miles of streets. That stretch was laid in West Newton square some years ago. Frequently we have urged more concrete. In wet weather it is not as slippery as the Warrenite or similar sheet asphalt surface used on more recent resurfacing jobs. We believe, inasmuch as con-crete is too expensive for general use, that in the future the city should consider the use of asphalt with a roughened surface or substantial macadamized tar permeated construc-tion with rubble surface such as used by the State so ef fectively in recent years.

UNSATISFACTORY CONDITIONS

While on the subject of streets we enter a protest on the condition of the business sections of the city with ice in many places six inches thick. Following the recent snow storms city employees were put to work cleaning up the snow as usual, but during the thaw early in the week little attention was paid to removing the ice when it could have been done with the least resistance of nature. It would seem to us that here was an opportunity for the city to 'lighten some of the hardships of unemployment.

UNDER THE GILDED DOME

The General Court of 1931 has start-

The General Court of 1931 has started off with a Democratic Governor and a Republican majority in both branches of the Legislature. The new Governor, Hon. Joseph B. Ely of Westfield, stressed the unemployment situation to which he devoted nearly half of his inaugural message. He recommended the issue of State bonds to put through some $20,000,000 expenditures in public works. He departed from the usual procedure when he spoke in favor of not strictly adhering to the pay-as-you-go policy. This revealed the possibility of an interesting situation in view of the fact that Speaker Saltonstall, in his opening address last Wednesday, favored that policy "with modifications." Whether this means that the new Governor will find it hard to persuade the majority party of the feasibility of his plans remains to be seen.

One interesting feature of the inaugural address was the assertion that the present ballot at the State election was too long. A "short" ballot has been urged by a number of observers for years. Governor Ely is emphatic in his belief that the Secretary of State, State Treasurer, State Auditor and Attorney General should be appointed by the Governor. It was a splendid tribute to Speaker Salstonstall to find such enthusiastic endorsement of his administration as Speaker during 1929 and 1930. The caucus of Republican House members Speaker during 1929 and 1930. The caucus of Republican House members held before the House assembled Wed caucus of Republican House members held before the House assembled Wednesday showed its eagerness to renominate Mr. Saltonstall for another two years as Speaker. When the House elected him to that office there was loud and prolonged applause, including that from the Democratic members with whom he is extremely popular. Speaker Salstonstall received 138 votes and Representative Birmingham of Brighton, Democrat, received 97. This gives some idea of the total Democratic strength in the lower branch. That it is much larger than for 15 years is quite apparent. The eluge of bills has just started and will continue undoubtedly, with increasing force, until Saturday, Jan. 17 at 5 p. m., the last day and hour for filing new measures.

The various special commissions have pretty nearly all reported. There are a few hanging fire, but considering the fact that there was a record-breaking number this year of

By Edw. H. Powers

A friend of ours in Newton recently installed a radio set in his office at Newton Corner. He told us that the set is a good one but he has discovered that the location is not ideal, according to the following dialogue which he composed:

"Hello Bill. What luck with the new radio?"

"Great! Jack. Why with only 50 ft. of antennae I'm gettin' 15 different stations."

"Well that may satisfy you but it looks pretty punk to me."
"Why what you a gittin?"
"Well with 6 ft. of antennae hitched onter the gas pipe I git 17 regular stations, 2 Electric Elevators, 7 Frigidaires, 2 X-rays, 3 Washing Machines, 1 Curling Iron and 1, I'm not sure of, but by the sound I think it's the operating room of the Animal Rescue League."

As has been previously stated in this column there are many persons who think that citizens are selected for jury duty. With so many men out of work, some of the unemployed are anxious to do jury duty. Jurors are not selected. They are drawn at random. Voting lists are cut up into separate names, these names are placed in a box and then a member of the Board of Aldermen will pull as many of the tiny slips from the mass in the box as are required to fill the quota from this city. Certain citizens, because of their occupations are exempted from jury duty. Others are not eligible because of physical disqualifications or criminal records. The way some juries have acted in recent years, it might be better if jurors were selected rather than obtained by the haphazard method now in use.

The deluge of bills has just started and with the "History of Transportation in Foreign and early from the engines deals with the "History of Transportation, Transportation,

Chevrolet wins first place for the fourth time

First place at the National Automobile Shows—a position granted on the basis of annual sales volume -is again awarded to Chevrolet.

This is the fourth consecutive time that Chevrolet has achieved this honor. And the reason lies in the exceptional value which Chevrolet cars consistently provide.

This year, in its bigger and better Six, Chevrolet is offering an outstanding example of the value which has brought it such record success. In fact, no previous Chevrolet car has ever represented such a high degree of quality and advancement, and sold at such low prices as today's Chevrolet Six-the Great American Value.

With its longer wheelbase; roomier, more luxurious Fisher bodies; new lines of smart, modern beauty; smoother, 50 h. p. six-cylinder engine; many important mechanical improvements; and greatly reduced prices-the new Chevrolet Six is the Great American Value.

During the past two weeks small group meetings of Scout Masters of Norumbega Council have been held in various parts of the city. It has been the purpose of these meetings to discuss the organization of the council, general plans for 1931, and to consider Patrol and Troop meeting planning for the next 5½ months. In order to help the Scout Masters in Patrol and Troop Meeting programing, the councilors have drawn upplanning sheets in blank and also another form giving Patrol and Troop.

Senor Manuel Freyre, Ambassador Extraordinary and Minister Plenipotentiary from Peru, will discuss "The Value of a Close Inter-American Spiritual Understanding." The Ambassador is accounted a brilliant and able speaker, and since this administration of the Federation has stressed the study of the Americas, this address is eagerly anticipated. Dr. James S. Plant, Director of the Essex County Child Guidance Clinic, of Newark, New Jersey, will speak on the "Findings and the Significance of the White House Conference on Child Health and Protection." Dr. Plant headed one of the more important committees in this conference and his fine handling of the many problems presented, caused him to be sought out to present this vital matter to the Board. sketches. The latter attracted no small part of the interest in the exhibit. It hardly seemed possible to get so much composition and color into so small a compass. The two outstanding larger canvasses are the "Clam Flats" and "Smith's Cove, Gloucester". As a colorist and stylist, Mr. Nordstrom shows a rare appreciation of these elements in his work. He has previously exhibited at the Lamson and Hubbard galleries and at the Appalachian Club. His exhibit in the Newton Centre Woman's Clubhouse will close at 5 p. m. Saturday, January 10. Newton Upper Falls Women's Club

On Monday evening, January 5, the Newton Upper Falls Woman's Club met in the Club Rooms to be entertained by Virginia Lind Buquo, A. B. A. M., on the subject "The Psychology of Laughter".

The attendance was not so large on account of the storm but those who attended were well repaid.

Miss Nellie M. Osborne was chairman of the evening.

Newtonville Woman's Club

Miss Adele Neff, a reader of unusual ability, entertained the Newtonville Woman's Club most delightfully, on Tuesday afternoon. January 6, at the regular meeting of the club, held at the Central Congregational Church. Miss Neff is not merely a reader, she is a performer with a great sympathetic understanding. Her personality is felt immediately as she creates her characters. Her versatility has the power of making her audience laugh one minute at her inimitable comedy and feel sorry the next for the misfortunes of some character she is portraying. She has a sweet litting voice when doing songs or monologues, and with great volume she imitates the dramatic opera stars. Miss Neff's repertoire is replete with unusual and extremely clever and amusing character sketches.

The music for the afternoon was furnished by Mrs. Kenneth Hastings and Mrs. Stanler. We Hestings is Mrs. Herbert Longfellow read selec tions from the pen of Rear Admiral Byrd, giving word pictures of his wonderful adventures in the south seas, the finding of the South Pole, the naming of the mountains they dis covered, the utter absence of vegetales and animal life, the marvelous coloring in ice formations, and, above all, his appreciation of the bravery and work of his companions. The South Pole was found to be land surrounded by water: the North Pole, water surrounded by land.

Mrs. Wright brought an armful of magazine and newspaper pictures taken soon after "the lone flight across the Atlantic," showing his receptions abroad and at home. Then she reviewed his life in a most interesting manner, closing with the tribute to him and to his character by President Coolidge.

POLICE NEWS

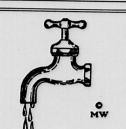

Sunday night a telephone complaint came to Newton Police headquarters from the home of Samuel Gilman at 384 Waltham street, West Newton, that marauders were prowling about the house. A patrolman went to the place and found the alleged suspicious characters to be Captain Jeremiah Mosher and Sergeant Walter French of Police Station 16, Boston, and that they were there on a tour of investic they were there on a tour of investi-gation. The reason for the unexpected presence of the two Boston police officers at the West Newton residence has been amply published in Boston newspapers the past few in Boston newspapers the past few days.

Gilman's wife is Florence Sennott Gilman who has a record as a shop-lifter. Recently she was a defendant in one of the Suffolk County district courts charged with receiving stolen goods, and she was held for the Grand Jury. The action on this case was instituted by the police of Station 16 in Boston, so when a tip was received last Sunday that men connected with the Suffolk County Grand Jury were to be at the Gilman home that night, the officers from the Back Bay police station came to see who the guests might be. They observed two automobiles parked outside the house and saw three groups of men enter. According to the report of the Boston policemen the visitors included a State Senator from a Boston district and an assistant clerk of the Suffolk County superior court for criminal business. They also reported that one of the automobiles was registered in the name of a member of the Grand Jury, so a Boston paper published Thursday morning. When this paper came out with its first story on Wednesday, District Attorney Foley of Suffolk County conferred with Judge Williams of the Superior Court. The matter was then placed before the Grand Jury for investigation.

Newton Artist Awarded Honor

William M. Paxton Wins Popular

Newton's well-known artist, Mr. William M. Paxton of 19 Montvale road, Newton Centre, has been awarded the Popular Prize vote at the 12th Biennial Exhibition of Contemporary American Oil Paintings held at Washington, D. C. Artists from all over the country had been chosen to exhibit their work, and 5,000 votes were cast during the referendum, resulting in Mr. Paxton's painting being chosen the best by popular vote of the visitors to the exhibition. He also won the Popular Vote prize in Washington in 1920 and 1922.

Mr. Paxton has received more Popu-

Mr. Paxton has received more Popular Awards than any other artist in the country. Among them were the popular prize at the Pennsylvania Academy of Fine Arts in 1922, the popular prize at the Corcoran Art Gallery in 1919, and others. This past summer he was awarded the popular vote prize of the Boston Tercentenary Fine Arts Exhibition held in Horticultural Hall throughout June and July.

He has done a great many oil paint ings, among them being portraits of the late President Cleveland, Chief Justice Hall of the Massachusetts Su-Court, and several members of the Du Pont family. He also has done many exceptionally fine drawings and

Red Cross Issues Appeal For Relief

Newton Quota For "Drought Fund" Is $11,400

"Newton today is called upon to assume a double burden of relief and to all those men and women who are regularly employed or who have substantial incomes I urge that special sacrifices be made to assist the unemployed in our own city and likewise subscribe to the Red Cross drought emergency," Mayor Weeks said.
"Nearly 1,000 of our citizens are unemployed. The municipality is doing all it can to provide jobs for them and the Mayor's Relief Committee, which is at work raising a fund of $100,000 is distributing food, fuel, and clothing to these needy residents to prevent

Business Men To Hold Many Friends Honor Important Meeting

The Newton Business Associates, an organization of Newton Corner business and professional men, will hold its January meeting on Monday at eight o'clock at the Hunnewell Club, Church and Eldredge streets, Newton. The meeting will be one of importance to the merchants of the Newton Corner section as well as to residents of the entire city and particularly those of Wards one and seven. The important subject for discussion will be the report of the committee appointed last fall to study traffic conditions around Nonantum square and to make for the site of the old fire station on Washington street opposite Charlesbank road. The report of this committee which was comprised of John Madden, chairman, Andrew J. Ford, Richard I. Dwyer, and George L. White, was printed in full in the issue of the Newton Graphic of December 19th. More recently a plan, showing the proposed changes, was also published.

Ished.

Briefly the committee's chief recommendation was that a street be constructed from Centre to Washington streets, parallel with the railroad, providing a bus terminal and parking space in the rear of the stores fronting on these streets between the two railroad bridges. Further recommendations included a convenience station on part of the area formerly occupied by the fire station and the opening of the area in the rear of the Taylor, Stevens, and Beacon buildings through to Pearl street.

DROUGHT RELIEF FUND

The Greatest Crisis in the United States since the Mississippi Flood Disaster

The President of our country (who is also President of the Red Cross) appeals to you to relieve suffering in the 21 States affected by drought conditions.

This crisis may not be as dramatic as a tornado or flood but nevertheless 17,000,000 people in this country today are in actual want due to failure of crops and loss of cattle incident to the "dry spell" of the past summer.

$10,000,000 is needed and Newton's quota is $11,400.

Every penny contributed will be expended in the stricken area. Your contribution will be gladly accepted by players, will have to spend a year or more in the minors before being ready for the majors. He will be the fourth local youth in the past decade to have a major league trial. Bill Cronin of West Newton is on the roster of the Boston Braves. Bill Hunnefield spent several years with the Chicago White Sox and Frank Spain was given a tryout with the St. Louis Cardinals during one of the trips to Braves Field in the latter part of September of 1928. The Cardinals at the time were in the throes of a pennant-struggle and after losing the World Series a change in management followed so that Spain heard nothing further. He later went to Exeter academy and now is at Dartmouth where he will confine his athletics to collegiate circles for the next few years. Newton's other "big-leaguer" is John "Shono" Collins, formerly of Newton Upper Falls, who will manage the Boston Red Sox this coming season.

TRIAL WITH SENATORS

Tommy Gilligan, former Newton High, Exeter Academy and Harvard athlete, will get a trial this coming Springs with the Washington team of the American Baseball League. He will go South with the Senators to their training camp at Beloxi, Miss.

Tommy Gilligan was the outstanding of three athletic brothers while at Newton high. He played football, hockey and baseball and was proficient in all three. He captained the football team of 1925, graduating in June of 4926. He entered Exeter academy the following fall and was a star athlete there that year. In the fall of 1927 he entered Harvard and was a star on the Crimson freshman football team. In the spring he forsook baseball in order to participate in Spring varsity football practice. In 1928 and 1929 he was a member of the varsity football squads and made his letter in baseball in 1929.

He played right field on the nine and won the Wingate Cup for his all-around play, including a batting average of 3390 to lead the team. Gilligan has not yet been tendered a contract but Clark Griffith, Washington owner, has agreed to give him a trial. He left Boston recently to go to work for a Chicago newspaper until the last of February when he will leave for the South.

In all probability Gilligan, like most other prospective big league baseball players, will have to spend a year or more in the minors before being ready for the majors. He will be the fourth local youth in the past decade to have a major league trial. the services of Alfred Mouser, leading 300-yard runner, who became ineligible on Monday. It is possible that Mouser can bring his marks up to grade in order to compete in the interscholastic meetings later in the clean sweep of that event for Newton

A mix-up in the original schedule of the Greater Boston Interscholastic league has resulted in a moving up of two of the four games scheduled for January 31st to Saturday, Jan. 24th. The date of the 31st is not available for hockey because the K. of C. annual indoor track meet will be held there that evening. The other two of the four schoolboy hockey games will be played on a later date. Newton High drew up its schedule games will be played on a later date.

Newton High drew up its schedule with a game at Andover Academy on that date and Cambridge Latin likewise scheduled a game with Hebron academy to be played in Maine. Consequently these two teams will probably not be able to meet Arlington and Stoneham, their respective opponents for the 31st. Dr. Oscar Martin, Newton high faculty manager, will arrange to meet Arlington at the Garden on the 24th if there should be no ice at Andover on that date. The two games that will positively be played on the 24th instead of the 31st are those between Melrose and Rindge Tech and Belmont and Woburn.

NEWTON DRAMATIC

"He Who Gets Slapped" has been the play chosen for the second formal event of the Newton Dramatic Club to be presented Wednesday, Jan. 21, at 8:20 in the Newton Centre Woman's Club House.

The play, by the famous playwright, Leonid Andreyev, centres around a man of high education who leaves the life to which he has been accustomed, to become a clown. He soon finds that life under the "big tent" is much like that which he has left. First produced by the Theatre Guild in 1922, it has not often been repeated in this vicinity. It is to the credit of the Newton Dramatic Club that it has taken these characters to walk the stage again to portray the life of a gay circus crowd and to retell the story that centers around the great idealism of "He."

The play is being coached by Mrs. Everett W. Varney of Newton Centre and the cast is composed partly of Newton actors and of guest actors from Greater Boston. Harrison Crofford, who so admirably portrayed Georges Durand in "Nell of N'Orleans," the first play to be given by the Club, will take the part of

Mrs. Olive L. Bartlett of 35 Pelham street, Newton Centre died on January 8th in her 92nd year. She was born in Marshfield, graduated from the Boston Normal School and taught school in that city. CHEVROLET

Chevrolet cars and trucks, the lowest priced products of General Motors have achieved tremendous popularity in recent years because of the fact that they have more than filled the claims made for them by their manufacturers. Chevrolet cars provide the smoothness of a "six" plus power and low cost of operation. Chevrolet cars have bodies which display an attractiveness comparable to many cars which cost much more. All the resources of the great unit of General Motors Company are evident in the values obtained in the latest Chevrolet models. The Stuart Chevrolet Company located at 431 Washington street, Newton, not only carries the new line of Chevrolet cars, but also has on hand a large stock of used cars at extremely low prices, cars which are guaranteed to give satisfaction and on which a week's trial may be had.

CADILLAC-LA SALLE

When one thinks of the best in automobhes, one instinctively thinks of the Cadillac car and its companion car the LaSalle. These outstanding specimens of the automotive industry naturally appeal to those who want the best. While their first cost is higher than most cars, in the long run they cost less than many lower priced cars. The care and skill used in the manufacture of these two super-cars cause them to give care-free service for many years. The ease with which they are operated, and the comfort enjoyed by those who ride in them explain why more and more people are not satisfied with cars less excellently constructed than Cadillacs and La Salles. They are sold in this city by the Newton Centre Garage, 792 Beacon street, Newton Centre. Mr. Norman Appleyard, manager of this concern, and his assistants, will be at the Boston Automobile Show.

BUICK

A new page was written last week in the history of National automobile Shows at the Grand Central Palace in New York City where the first automobile show of the 1931 season proved unusually successful.

Probably no exhibition within the past three decades has ever offered the public a show that held more that was interestingly new than this show which closed last Saturday night. About two hundred separate exhibits of passenger cars, accessories, and trucks were on display; nearly three hundred complete cars, chassis and commercial vehicles occupied the three floors of the big exhibition building.

The 1931 models definitely reflect the public demand for more sustained and higher speed, improved riding qualities, silent and more economical operation.

qualities, silent and more economical operation.

One example of the satisfaction with which these demands have been met was found in the exhibit of the Buick Motor Company, where several shining new models of this popular line of Straight Eights held daily the attention of thousands of visitors.

Especial interest centered in the Buick exhibition because of the announcement made on the opening day of the show that the Synoro-mesh transmission and the Buick torque tube drive are now built into the smallest and least expensive cars in the Buick line, the six models on the 114-inch wheelbase chassis.

The Auto Show visitors this year got a definite impression from the additional new eights, twelves and sixteens that the multi-cylinder engine is here to stay, and frequent predictions were heard that the eight within a short time will virtually displace

By Edw. H. Powers

Within the next six months many persons will need dependable automobiles for transportation. If the people who will have to purchase cars realized the tremendous advantages obtainable now in the used car market they would purchase at once. As in most other lines of business the "used car" market has been dull and dealers warerooms are overcrowded. Capital is frozen in cars on hand, Dealers need money. Now is the time for the public to take advantage of the situation. Business is on the mend and as conditions improve prices asked for used cars will be higher. Persons purchasing used cars now will save considerable. Within the next six months many Mayor Duane of Waltham deserves commendation for advocating that orders given by that city for purchases of food for persons needing aid shall be given, whenever possible to independent stores owned by merchants who pay taxes to the city and who, in many instances have extended credit to families in needy circumstances. In too many cases food purchased on orders from welfare departments of cities is procured from chain stores which pay no taxes locally. The argument is offered that poor people can get more at such stores, but this argument can be refuted. Certainly, food supplied purchased by School Departments should be obtained from independently owned stores which pay taxes to a city and not from chain stores which pay no taxes to local treasuries, except the comparatively small amounts which are received indirectly through the State as corporation taxes.

Once again Newton residents are asked to respond to a call for relief work to be conducted by the National Red Cross. Once again we know that Newton will not fail. Out of the ten millions of dollars that are needed properly to handle the "drought" situation we are asked to contribute the comparatively small sum of $11,400. Previous relief funds such as the Mississippi Flood and the Florida hurricane, carried with them a dramatic appeal for help, whereas in the present instance this phase is lacking. But, nevertheless, the situation is extremely serious. Conditions which arose out of the prolonged dry spell of last summer now affect twenty-one states where seventeen millions of people are suffering from lack of food. Crops have failed and even water has become a "luxury" in many places. If we, each and every one of us, do our share, Newton will not fail.

TREATING THE RESIDENTS FAIRLY

When a private individual desires to erect a building on his own property which may affect that of his neighbor he is required to obtain a permit from the city. During the routine of granting this permit the law requires that the owners of abutting property be notified of the contemplated erection of certain types of structures. In many instances the abuttor has valid objections which result in alternitive to the place and greater estimates the abuttor when stances the abuttor has valid objections which result in alterations to the plans and greater satisfaction all around. When the city contemplates a new building does it notify the abuttors? No—at least it is not required to do so. Why not treat the residents of the city fairly? Recently the city proposed alterations and an addition to one of its school buildings. Unfortunately an incorrect impression went abroad that this new wing was to be on the opposite side of the property adjoining that of a resident. After the contracts were awarded and only a few days before actual work was begun the resident learned that the building was to be placed within five feet of his line. It is immaterial to us whether or not this building was to contain a gymnasium, school rooms, or auditorium, or even had it been a city garage or stable it would have been treating the resident fairly to notify him that such an addition was being contemplated.

IT MAY BE TOO LATE

When will some curb be put upon automobilists using Washington street as a race track? Recently we learned of a near-accident at the corner of Church street, scene of a prea near-accident at the corner of Church street, scene of a previous fatal accident, that might easily have resulted fatally. A passenger was about to step off a bus that had pulled over onto the outside track of the unused street railway when an automobile sped through the slush between the bus and the curb at twenty-five or more miles per hour. The consequences that this act might have caused can easily be imagined. Fortunately the passenger on the bus sensed the on-coming machine and quickly drew back. Drivers such as these are not to be tolerated and unless something is done shortly to prevent reckless driving on Newton's most important thoroughfare it may be too late.

CAR NEARLY GOES IN RIVER

Early yesterday morning a touring car of an old model was found suspended over the Charles River at the Farwell street bridge between Waltham and Newtonville. The car was perched on the abutment at the northeasterly end of the bridge and had been prevented from falling into the river when the projecting flywheel caught on the abutment. From number plates on the car it was learned that it was registered in the name of Mrs. Frederick Ramsden of Freeman street, Auburndale. Ramsden came to Mrs. Frederick Ramsden of Freeman street, Auburndale. Ramsden came to police headquarters in Waltham later in the morning and reported that shortly before midnight on Wednesday he was driving southerly on Farwell street when a car approached him travelling on the wrong side of the bridge and forcing him through a fence and onto the abutment. Ramsden said he remembered no more until he recovered consciousness three hours later in an automobile on the Worcester post road in Sudbury. The

UNDER THE GILDED DOME

An interesting departure from previous customs was established by Governor Ely when he invited President Bacon of the Senate, Speaker Saltonstall of the House, Senator Buckley and Representative Birmingham, the latter two the Democratic leaders of their respective branches, to have breakfast with him last Tuesday and talk over matters that were coming before the Legislature. The plan, although somewhat of a surprise, seemed to have resulted in a display of genuine harmony. At any rate there was no delay when the Governor or that very day sent in a message for the expenditure of $330,700 for a variety of State work to relieve in part the unemployment situation. It is assumed that the Governor outlined his ideas at breakfast and that they were clearly acceptable to the Republican leaders as well as those of his own party. No one need think for a moment that future legislation that does not appeal to the Republican leaders as well as those of his own party. No one need think for a moment that future legislation that does not appeal to the Republican leaders as well as those of his own party. No one need think for a moment that future legislation that does not appeal to the Republican leaders of the republican leaders as well as those of his own party. No one need think for a moment that future legislation that does not appeal to the Republican leaders of the Republican leaders of the Republican leaders of the Republican leaders will be passed without protest. Neither is it fair to think that the new Governor will ask for that which is unreasonable. There is evident a desire for a complete understanding on both An interesting departure from pre on both sides which cannot fail, it seems, to prove beneficial to the voters.

For this time in a great many years the Lieutenant Governor, who is also a member of the Executive Council, will not serve as the chairman of the committee on nominations. Governor Ely has appointed Councillor Brennan, the only Democratic member of the Council, to serve as chairman of that committee which reports on the appointments made by the Governor. As the present Lieutenant Governor is not of the same political party as the Governor and there is nothing unusual in the latter selecting a Democrat to handle such matters as chairman of the committee on nominations. The Lieutenant Governor is probably willing to be relieved of the task of defending the appointments of a Governor of another political faith.

Hearings before committees were begun this week with the Committee on Metropolitan Affairs starting off with several important bills.

Representative Luitwieler is the petitioner for the enactment of a "Citizen's Rights" bill, the provisions of which he describes as follows:

"The petition seeks to correct a condition that makes it practically impossible for persons of ordinary means to obtain redress against those mubble officials who are appointed for means to obtain redress against those public officials who are appointed for the purpose of protecting the people's interest but who fail to carry out the law. The fact that all the legal and financial resources of the government are enlisted in defense of the official against whom the complaint is made, makes recourse to the prescribed method or petition to the courts hopeless.

"The aggrieved party will be ruined before the matter reaches a final decision by the court. The court's delay and legal fees and costs would destroy him and he suffers the injury without redress and with growing contempt for the law, both by himself and his friends.
"This bill simply makes available."

LEVI F. WARREN JR. HIGH

After the usual opening exercises at the assembly on Jan. 7th, the president introduced the speaker, Mr. Miller, a missionary in India, and the father of a pupil in the school.

Mr. Miller gave a talk on India, illustrated by some interesting slides showing the customs of that country, particularly in Industry and education, and how they are slowly progressing. The talk was very interesting and was enjoyed by all.

Warren has had a fine record of thrift with twelve consecutive weeks of one hundred per cent. The last two weeks the percentage has been ninety-nine and nine-tenths. Warren hopes to regain its former record.

you were too young to drive a car.'

From an old French allegory of the Fourteenth century we have inherited the expression, "to curry favor," writes Elizabeth Hawes Ryland in the Boston Transcript. The star character of this old fable was a chestnut or fawn-colored horse called "Favel." This picturesque animal typified Hypocrisy. Therefore, "to curry Favel," as the English of Spenser's day had it, was to "curry the fawn-colored horse," that is, to employ deceitful means for selfish ends "Favel" eas-ily passed into "favor." Letters To The Editor

RECKLESS DRIVING

To the Editor:

How long must we stand for the reckless driving on Washington street especially on dark and ratiny nights. If it were not for the fact that I am trained by years of athletics to think and act quickly I would be through with this world. On a M. and B. bus from Newtonville at a little after 8 o'clock I signaled for a stop at Church street. The bus pulled over on to what was the old west bound car tracks and stopped. As I was about to place my foot down from the lower step into the slush I realized a sedan auto was then even with the back of the bus and passing on the right going at least 25 miles per hour. And if I had a tape and stop watch it would be found I broke the world's record for backward jump and backward speed. The slush that car swished into the bus while passing between the car steps and the curbstone would have smothered a cat, as it was, the bus driver got his share.

I suggest signs near several car stops that would warn every auto To the Editor:

the bus driver got his share.

I suggest signs near several car stops that would warn every auto driver of heavy penalty for passing a bus or any other auto on the right. The laws of the road prescribe "pass to the left when proceeding in the same direction" but this law is so little enforced that it is a wonder that the death roll at Church street is not much larger than it now is.

of about 1,500 feet below the surface.
These streams run up and down the mountain and across it. The water in these streams is as clear as a crystal and has no life in it. The streams run both north and south and some of them run north a distance, swerve around some welrd formation and flow back southward. The openings under the mountain have been cut by these streams and are corresponding in number and direction.

That's That

It is annoying when one goes to the theater and has one's view obstructed by the hat of a woman seated in front.

Nobody has much sympathy for those who choose to wear their largest hats while seeking amusement, but, on the other hand, there is the crusty old man who finds fault with everything, and pretends he is unable to see the stage even when the hat in front of him: "Do you mind removing your hat? I can't see through wood."

Then girl turned and looked at him quietly for a moment. Then she said, calmily: "Very well, change seats; I can."

Mr. Orr's generosity in the free use of the Bailey Place Shop and a garage for storage must not be overlooked. The Bargain Basement has brought in over $500 the past year. Three things should be stressed, send goods to the shop, visit the shop, show others the kind of work the Benefit Shop does, for their hospital and their poorer neighbors, its place in the community and ways in which they can help.

An enjoyable group of songs was rendered by the nurses. No annual meeting is complete without a message from Miss Allen. She related in detail many interesting items of the work of the year all of which indicated improvement and expansion as the hospital strives to cope with the ever increasing demands upon its ability to serve and to keep abreast of the trees, and the way for "beer, non-intoxi-definitions."

Mrs. Talbot then introduced the speaker of the morning, Mrs. T. Grafton Abbott. Clinical Psychologist of the Judge Baker Foundation for Child Guidance whose subject was 'Understanding Ourselves.' The talk was most interesting and stimulating to all and particularly helpful to those having the guidance and care of young children. In relating many incidents coming within her own experience or under her personal observation she offered the solution of many problems which confront every parent and teacher. At the close of the lecture Dr. Abbott answered many questions and the audience showed their enthusiastic appreciation of the rare opportunity to hear this noted Psychologist. At the close of the lecture a delicious luncheon was served in the nurses' dining room under the direction of Mrs. Cecil W. Clark and Mrs. George J. Murphy.

Mr. Coolidge Doubts. We Rebuke Liberia. Too Many Marines Shot. Beer, Perhaps.

Mr. Coolidge's daily contribution to public thought expresses discouragement as regards public ownership of anything. He says in the Chicago Herald Examiner, "the Government has never shown much aptitude for real business." Not everybody will agree with that.

Our Government showed considerable aptitude for business when it built the Panama Canal, that private capital had been unable to do. It shows business ability in its management of the post office. Other countries show aptitude for business in the way of private ownership. For instance, a power company, owned by the government, charges its customers one-half the price charged by a private company operating in the United States, using electric power extracted from the same water-fall, Perhaps there is something to learn hind, especially as slavery is about their only source of profit. A slave owner gave his slave enough food and clothes to keep him living, and had to worry about him when sick. Modern industrialists give the work modern industrialists give the work-er enough to keep him going, and need not worry about him when he's sick. In the eyes of Providence, there may not be a great difference between bodily slavery and what our Socialist friends call "wage slavery."

new government of Guatemala, on the ground that the provisional president, Andrade, did not enter office by a coup d'etat.

What difference how the President came in, since he is in?

Our first President came in by a considerable coup d'etat that included kicking King George out of the country. Napoleon Third of France came in by a disreputable coup d'etat, but we recognized him. Why not say to each country, "Fix your own government, and we'll recognize it, as long as it doesn't bother us."

Revolution in Panama drives out the one American. Revolutions seem to be fashionable with our friends far-ther south. But that is their business, not ours. As long as they do not interfere with us we should not interfere with them.

News from Nicaragua is our business. Rebels there killed eight American marines, making twenty-seven marines killed by Nicaraguans in the past four years. Just why our marines were there, our

Perhaps the States will decide what kind of beer is "non-intoxicating in fact." in which case some States will have excellent beer.

Mussolini's talk on the radio, for Mussoinis talk on the radio, for which he learned to make a speech in English, produced an excellent effect. Even the French believe in the sincerity of his statement, "I fought in the war as a common soldier in the ranks, and would never let Italy initiation." ate a war that would imperil whole populations without the possibility of defense."

Sees Shortage of Gold teamwork. One scares us half to death and the other comes along and reassures us. Professor Gay, at the Institute of Politics, predicted a serious gold shortage in years to come, unless there are some more strikes like Klondike and South Africa. Now Professor' Carver says there is no danger. There is plenty of gold in the earth, but not all mines can be worked profitably when gold is cheap—that is, when a gold dollar purchases a small volume of commodities.

As the purchasing power of gold rises it will become profitable to go after the gold in them thar bills. Thus the economic law will operate to provide the world with what gold it requires.

Now if a third Harvard professor would tell us how to make that eco-nomic law work the same way for individuals the picture would be perfect. Speaking personally, we have long been convinced that the gold shortage started some time before we were born.—San Francisco Chronicle.

Simple Old Method of Evading Penalty of Sin Every one unacquainted with old English customs is interested by the story of the Sin-eater in Mary Webb's "Precious Bane." Sin-eaters did not constitute a religious sect. They were employed in some coun-ties of England and in Wales in connection with funeral rites. Their of-fice was to eat bread and drink ale which had been placed on the bier, and thus symbolically take upon them-selves the sins committed by the deselves the sins committed by the de-ceased person. Having done this, the sin-cater pronounced the "ease and rest" of the dead person and asserted that to procure this he had pawned his own soul. There were not want-ing men to perform this rash office, but it was not so rash as might ap-pear; for the sin-eater could see to it that the same means of acquiring im-punity was invoked for him at his depunity was invoked for him at his decease, so that no matter what accumulation of sin he had made himself responsible for, the whole burden would be lifted by a subsequent sin-eater. The custom seems to have lingered in Wales until the forties of last century.—Montreal Family Herald.

The inventories of St. Paul's in Lon-don mention Thirteenth-century stock-ings embroidered with roses, eagles, lions, and in the upper part, wine leaves. In museums in England, France, Germany, Italy and Hungary, many royal and pontified stockings of the Thirteenth, Fourteenth and Fifteenth centuries are exhibited.

The cloth is usually twill. The finer underhair of the camel is about one inch long and is soft and silky. The long, coarse hairs from the camel are three-fourths of an inch long. In the shearing process they cannot be separated and are baled and exported in a mixed condition. When spun the hairs are sometimes separated but more often are woven together, giving the material the rough, shaggy appearance.-Washington Star.

Sealskin Production

Sealskin is obtained by dressing, which necessitates the removal of the coarse water hairs which grow beyond the fur. It is accomplished by shaving down the flesh side of the skin to ing down the nesh side of the skin to cut off the roots of the hair, which grow deeper than the fur. The hairs are then pulled out, and the fur, originally a rusty brown, is dyed black, the process requiring seven dippings. Both these processes are trade secrets, and they require great care and skill. and they require great care and skill. Experienced and successful work at once doubles the value of the skin.

The largest poultry plant in the world, operated at Reseda, Calif., sells more than 150,000 old hens each year and maintains a flock of 550,000 hens, says the United States Department of the state of Agriculture. The statistically minded can calculate that if these 500,000 chickens were marching in a line a foot apart, the parade would extend more than 90 miles.

the following morning on Charlesbank road, Newton.

Edward Scanlon of Malden and Frederick Burke of Cambridge appeared before Judge Gibbs in the Superior Court at Cambridge last Friday and were held in $50,000 bail each. The pair are charged with having committed burglaries in Malden, Cambridge, Brighton and Newton. The Newton break was at the Levi Warren Junor High School. A silver service stolen from this school was recovered by Inspector Goode. The vault in the school was broken and a 200 pound safe removed. Two others will be charged with participating in the robbery at the school. They are Charles Dwyer and Benjamin Mannix of Cambridge who were arrested for crimes committed in Suffolk County and who will appear later in the Newton court.

ONE THING AND ANOTHER

As far as we Newton folks are concerned our acquaintance with racketeers is confined to the screen and the printed page, barring, possibly tales that we may hear from travelers. For my own part I was delighted to read in the annual report of Attorney General Warner of Massachusetts, "nor has a single complaint been received of racketeering." That applies, of course, to the entire Commonwealth, which, I wish were as free as in Newton from racketeers.

It must be that all of us are familiar As far as we Newton folks are con which, I wish were as free as in Newton from racketeers.

It must be that all of us are familiar with the practices of these criminals. The Attorney General speaks of them as persons who "exact tribute from trades or businesses for immunity from destruction of property or from interference with business." If we lived in some places we would grasp more readily the significance of the Attorney General's definition. We would know that racketeers compel a milk dealer, a laundry proprietor and various other men in legitimate businesses to hand over a large percentage of their profits under threat of having their establishments ruined, their delivery trucks wrecked and worse than either the property of customers completely destroyed.

In Newton we gasp at the very thought of such though the seminate in income

Both the Senior and Intermediate Basketball Teams of the Newton Y. M. C. A. came through with victories in games played Saturday evening at the "Y." The Seniors defeated the Wakefield "Y" Seniors, 31 to 28, and the Intermediates took in the Quincy Crescents, 37 to 14. The scoring for the "Y" Seniors was distributed among all the members of the team, as was the scoring also for the "Y" Intermediates. For the Seniors, Ralph Dunbrack and William Earle played right forward; John MacDonnell and Al Perreault, left forward; Dick Wells. center; John Joyce, right guard, and Captain Henry Mahler, left guard. The Intermediate line-up was Bill Lansed, right forward; Joe Herlihy and Gordon Bass, left forward; Andrew Kasper, center; Ray Clarke and William Stevens, right guard, and Joe Benson and William Plenty, left guard, Next Saturday both "Y" teams play Malden Y. ABOUT TOWN

By Edw. H. Powers

The plans of the Library Trustees to convert the Chaffin house on Vernon street, Newton, into a Children's Library call for considerable alterations in the building. Most of the first floor would be made into one large room. On the second floor two rooms on the north side and a hall would be rebuilt into one large room to contain the circulating library which would supply books for the schools in this city. This room would not be open to the public.

An enclosure would be added to the porch on the northeast side of the house to contain a flight of stairs which will go from the children's library room on the first floor to the school library department on the second floor.

On the south side of the second school library department on the second floor of the Schaffin house are four rooms and a bath and on the third floor is another room. The suggestion has been made that these rooms can be made into an apartment which could be rented to responsible persons, and an appreciable income derived therefrom. If this were done, a door would be built on the garden side of the house to serve as the entrance to the apartment, leading to the back stairway of the dwelling. The apartment could be rented to some of the members of the library staff who would take special interest in keeping watch on the grounds surrounding the house, particularly the beautiful rose-garden.

It has been estimated that it will cost about $5700 to remodel the building for library purposes and about $500 more to remodel the rooms for use as an apartment, should this be decided upon. To furnish the children's room and the room for the schools' circulating library would cost $3200, using and refinishing some of the furniture in the present children's department. Assuming that the building would be ready for occupancy on May 1st, $400 would be required to pay for fuel, lights and janitor service for the eight months following in 1931.

Inasmuch as the city, some months

Inasmuch as the city, some months ago appropriated a considerable sum for the purchase of the Chaffin property, it is probable that another appropriation will be made in this year's budget to convert the house into a children's library building and thus have appreciable benefits follow from the investment made by Newton in the Chaffin estate.

An organization in this State interested in the welfare of boys and girls with perverse tendencies is petitioning for a change in our laws which will increase the age under which offenders must be tried as juveniles from 17 years to 18 years. This organization would also have a law enacted which will forbid any newspaper from publishing the name of any juvenile arrested for, or convicted of committing a crime.

squarc without the presence of one of two evils. Either traffic must cross at important points or more congestion must be endured. The one objection to the proposed plan would be the danger at the entrance to the new street. Traffic here could be regulated by policeman or signal and a bus would have space to wait in the intersection without holding up other traffic. Such traffic would have ample upportunity to pass on either side of the bus to make a right or left turn on to Center street.

Mr. Madden stated that nothing of importance has been done in Newton Corner for years. In 1898 the elevated boomed the section when street railway tracks were laid. The erection of the Tayior building and new stores was the beginning of an increase in business. Since then, outside of norval growth, things have practically been at a standstill. Although one nundred per cent requested the widening of the corner at the lunchroom prior to the remodeling of the huildags there nothing resulted. Weeks, on the erection of two new buildings, a Police Headquarters and a District Court building. Work on these structures has been advanced as part of the Mayor's unemployment relief program in order to provide winter-time jobs for skilled craftsmen. Plans for the buildings have been completed and bids for both are now being asked. The courthouse will be located in Washington street, West Newton, approximately on the site of the present police station. Adjacent land occupied until recently by the City Hall Annex, which has been torn down, will be the site of the new Police Headquarters building.

Both are of Georgian style of architecture and will be constructed of selected red water-struck brick with granite and limestone trim. They will be set back 30 feet from the sidewalk.

DROUGHT RELIEF

If every citizen in Newton had an opportunity to read the official reports that are being received by the Newton Chapter of the Red Cross from National Headquarters relative to conditions in the drought area there would be a wholesale rush to contribute to Newton's quota of $11,400.

It is almost beyond belief to learn that here in the United States people that here in the United States people are suffering acutely from lack of fuel, food, clothing, and other necessities of life. But it is all true. It is no fault of theirs that they are in this deplorable condition—the dry spell of last summer is entirely responsible for the failure of crops which has led to all this misery.

Did you know that the failure of crops has reached to the very roots of the lives of these people? Mortgages are being foreclosed, merchants have failed, and banks have reached the limit of their resources. Not only is there acute personal misery but there has blossomed forth a grave and staggering economic condition.

The plight of children in these areas is most touching. From Kentucky comes the following report:

"In a single Red Cross Chanter's

"In a single Red Cross Chapter's drought area there are 392 children in desperate need of everything from food to clothing. Health officers of Kentucky report another county with normally 300 school children of whom only forty now in school. Of the forty only 3 had lunches on the day of health officer's visit. ALDERMEN MEET

The meeting of the Board of Aldermen on Monday night was one of the briefest in many months. The actual time consumed by the Board in the Aldermanic Chamber in acting on matters on the docket did not exceed much more than 30 minutes, but the Aldermen sitting as a committee of the whole in secret session deliberated for some time on a couple of important matters.

Hearings were called on petitions One of the most flagrant cases of incendiarism in the history of this city destroyed a large house at 83 Cotton street, Newton, early Sunday and brought most of the fire apparatus in the city to the scene of the fire. At 1.29 a.m. a telephone call brought the in the city to the scene of the fire. At 1.29 a.m. a telephone call brought the first apparatus to the place. The building was then a mass of flames and Box S3 was quickly pulled. The fire spread with great rapidity and Chief Randlett ordered a second alarm at 1.43. Ember Aying through the air endangered other houses in the vicinity. Scattered through the building the firemen found 15 cans which had contained gasoline, kerosene and other inflammable liquids. Fed by such fuel the flames raced all through the structure and completely ruined it. The damage is estimated at about 720,000. The firemen were combatting the blaze for several hours, the all-out not being sounded until 7.13 Sunday morning. Inspectors from the office of the State Fire Marshal are investigating the fire.

To Start Work On Court House And Police Hdqrs. Soon Record For Early Presentation Of Budget Set By Mayor Weeks

Recommends Nearly Four and One-Half Million Total-$350,000 Less Than 1930 Expenditures

At the meeting of the Board of Aldermen on Monday night printed copies of the budget for 1931 were received from Mayor Weeks. The Mayor established a record for early presentation of a budget. The figures for this year's budget total $354,226,02 less than last year's expenditures. The expenditures for 1931, as recommended by the Mayor amount to $4,495, 253.37 plus $300,414 for the Water Department, this sum to be taken from water revenue. The recommendations made by department heads totalled $4,800,653.16, so the Mayor lopped off about $305,400 from the estimates of the department heads. The budget estimates of the department heads. The budget estimates of the department heads. The budget estimates of the Mayor, compared with the estimates of department heads and the amounts expended last year are given in the table below.

Savings in the General Department expenditures from the amounts expended in 1930 are affected by estimating nearly $600 less for memorial Day expenses, $361 for committee expenses of Retirement Pension Board, As no money was recommended alterations of school buildings cost $366,885,62. This year the Buildings Commissioner asked for Saveguer and state of the Public Buildings and other city buildings than were expended last year, in 1930 maintenance and earlied to school buildings cost $366,885,62. This year the Buildings Commissioner asked for Saveguer and the provided provided the provided provided the provided in the budget of the Law Department will be chart the same as in 1930 with savings effected because no city ordinances will be printed this year and there will be no State Election costs. City Engineer Morse is the only department the same as in 1930 with savings effected because no city ordinances will be printed this year and there will be no State Election costs. City Engineer will be partment will be about the same as in 1930 with savings effected because no city ordinances will be printed this year and there will be no State Election costs. City Engineer will be no State Election

War Veterans quarters, $6750 less for water for fire hydrants, $500 less for expenses of Retirement Pension Board. As no money was recommended under this department for the Municipal Buildings Insurance Fund and $10,000 was appropriated last year, this considerably reduced the total. A large increase noted is in the amount required for pension funds—$25,167 as against $16,601 expended in 1930.

A drastic reduction in the budget for the Executive Department is accounted for by the fact that last year $17,344.75 was expended for the Tercentenary Celebration and other appreciable amounts were appropriated for the Legion Convention, printing of City History and City Atlas and fees for architects plans of the new City Hall. An interesting feature of the budget for this department is the estimate of $410 to pay expenses of department heads who attended conventions outside Massachusetts. Heretofore such expenses were included in the budget of the department whose head took the trip.

The budget of the Accounting Department is practically the same as in 1930. An increase of about $23,000 in the budget of the Treasury Department over that of last year is caused almost entirely by nearly that much ment over that of last year is caused almost entirely by nearly that much more being required for the re-tirement of serial bonds this year The budget of the Assessing De-$66,85a.62. This year the Buildings Commissioner asked for $60,000. The Mayor recommends $50,000. On other city buildings $20,622.64 were spent last year for maintenance and alterations. The Mayor recommends $12,000 for 1931, lopping $3000 from the estimate of Commissioner Chadwick. Chief Hughes of the Police Department asked for 10 additional patrolmen, but the Mayor turned down this recommendation. Other recommendations of the Chief not approved by the Mayor were for the purchase of a new patrol wagon and 8 new motorcycles. Chief Randlett of the Fire Department asked for 2 additional firemen but the Mayor did not grant this request. A salary increase of $200 recommended by the Health Department for the Agent of the Department was refused by the Mayor. In the budget of the Public Welfare-Department $30,000 was asked for outside aid. The Mayor cut this figure to $17,000.

NEWTON RUNNERS WIN ANOTHER

WIN ANOTHER

The Newton high track team moved along another notch in its quest for a third straight season cleanup of its dual meets by taking the Watertown team into camp last Saturday at Newtonville, 43 to 29. By mutual consent no relay was run. Newton won five first places and tied for another while the visitors managed to annex two and tie for one. Coach Enoch tried out several prospective performers in several events and withheld some of his more able athletes.

Captain Greene did not enter the dash in which he might easily have placed. Donald Irwin, another possible point scorer, was also held out. Walter Holmes, Newton colored flash, won this event, with Douglas Sloane of Newton taking second by a narrow margin over Gellatley of Watertown. In the trial heats of the hurdles both Harry Hatchell and Elliott Bradley tripped on the second barrier and failed to place. Captain Greene won his heat and also the final in which Watertown took second and third.

Jim Colligen failed to pass the former mark in the shot-put by three-quarters of an inch. His best heave was exactly forty-eight feet. Walter Holmes took second and Malloy of Newton third to give Newton a clean sweep of the points in the weight event.

Lowney of Watertown tallied the in-Newton third to give Newton a clean sweep of the points in the weight event.

Lowney of Watertown tallied the initial first place for the visitors by winning the broad jump with a leap of 9 ft. 9½ in. Johnson and Green, both of Newton, took second and third. The 300-yard run was held in heats against time. Robert Bell of Newton and John Rattigan of Watertown, winners of their respective heats were clocked in 37 seconds flat to tie for first. Jim Cahill of Newton made the third best time.

Watertown took revenge for Newton's sweep of the weight event by mopping up the 600-yard run. Thurber was first, Wells second and Rattigan third. Newton's entries in the event who were expected to be in the point scoring were Albert Guzzi and Douglas Chalmers. Both stayed well up during the early part of the race but faded on the last two laps.

The 1000-yard run caused considerable of a mix-up when the laps were not called off properly. Thurber of Watertown pushed George Lamb and Vincent Signore closely all the way. The latter thought he was on his last lap when he had two more to go and when he began to falter Lamb forced his way to the front and won by five yards over Thurber. Thurber took second and Signore third.

Captain Greene won the high jump to set his total points score for the day at eleven, the highest individual total of the meet. The Newton leader cleared 5 feet 8 inches to beat Perkins of Watertown. Champion of Newton was third.

Rattigan was the individual star for Newton was third.

Rattigan was the individual star for Watertown with eight points. He tied for first in the 300, took second in the hurdles and third in the 600. Holmes of Newton also tallied eight points with his first in the dash and second in the shottut in the shotput.

Considerable criticism of the start-Considerable criticism of the starting was heard among the spectators when many of the athletes were guilty of false starts. In the finals of the dash the Watertown entry, Gellatley, was finally disqualified by the starter but by agreement he was given another chance and no ill-feeling resulted. Athletes of both teams were nervous and tense on their marks and when the call to "get set" came, failed to hold a steady position, resulting in delay in the barking of gun. While there might have been some improvement in the starting the fault was largely with the athletes.

HAS PRACTICE MEET WITH COUNTRY DAY

Wednesday afternoon Coach Donald Enoch of the Newton high school track team sent his boys against the Country day school team in a practice meet at the Newton high track. Captain Milton Greene, Walter Holmes and Jim Colligen, Newton's star trio, did not compete and even without these lads their teammates pulled through to a 50 to 22 victory. Country Day started off in the lead by sweeping the hurdles with Schmidt, Brown and Labouchere finishing in that order. Newton almost turned the tables in the dash when Doug Sloane and Quinlan took the first two places and Donald Irwin finished in a dead heat with Schmidt of Country Day for third.

Patrolman Robert Turner testified that the Scoville woman had parked her car out in the roadway of Commonwealth avenue at Chestnut Hill while she conversed with two friends who stood beside her car. The policeman asked her to park the car near the curb so it would not interfere with traffic, but she ignored his order. Some minutes later the policeman returned and found the car had not been moved and that the lights on it had been turned off. Turner asked the woman for her license and she took several minutes to produce it. According to his testimony she remarked that she would gladly pay a fine of $25 to tell the policeman what she thought of him.

ANNUAL MEETING

Stone Institute and Newton Home for Aged People, 277 Eliot street, Newton Upper Falls, Newton, Mas-sachusetts.

ABOUT TOWN

By Edw. H. Powers

The time is most propitious for members of the Massachusetts Legislature to favor a bill which would authorize them to be presented with badges at the expense of the people of Massachusetts. Business is so good, everybody is so prosperous—that a few thousands of dollars would not be missed to buy badges for members of the Legislature. And the same "class conscious" statesmen who are seeking the privilege of getting badges also want to be permitted to use special registration plates on their automobiles.

When any members of the Lorie registration plates on their automobiles.

When any members of the Legislature arrive at the state of mind where they want badges and automobile plates which will label them as privileged individuals, it is about time to retire such persons from public life. Any member of the Legislature who will vote for either of these two measures should be defeated for re-election if they are candidates. And just because there will be no State election this year does not mean that the voters will have forgotten when the next election comes in 1932.

next election comes in 1932.

The appointment of William E. Hurley as postmaster of the Boston Postal District establishes a precedent in the big postal district of which Newton is a part. An excellent precedent and one that should be continued. Heretofore, postmasters at Boston have been men who obtained the job solely through political influence. Men who had never worked in the postal business and who knew little or nothing concerning it. With few exceptions, postmasters throughout this nation have been appointed similarly. As a result, the efficiency of the postal service has been seriously impaired. Mr. Hurley entered the postal service as a young man working as a post-office clerk. By ability and hard work he advanced himself to the rank of assistant-postmaster. If the Postoffice Department would establish the policy of appointing postmasters from the ranks of postoffice workers the public would obtain better service and postal employes would have added incentive.

Now that the Wickersham Commission has so satisfactorily settled the liquor problem, this country can concentrate on solving the unemployment situation and the business depression. And it cost $500,000 to get that report.

It is quite apparent that some of the storekeepers in the business sections of this city either are unaware of the city ordinance regarding the removal of snow from sidewalks, or disregard it. And the same thing may be said regarding many occupants of dwellings in this burg. The police ought to enforce this ordinance and then perhaps we would not listen to so many tales of woe from unfortunate pedestrians whose feet slipped on icy sidewalks to the damage of their clothing, limbs, bodies and peace of mind.

tles of beer, three pints of alleged whiskey and some empty bottles. The raid followed an alleged illegal sale of liquor by Mrs. Cassie Caruso, wife of Antonio. The couple appeared in the Newton court on Monday. Caruso was charged with keeping and exposing liquor for sale. His wife was charged with having made an illegal sale. Their cases were continued for a week.

The 1931 edition of the Newton Directory has been distributed. It is a well printed and planned book. Ac-cording to the advertisements in the advertising section of the directory many persons in this city are vio-lating the zoning ordinance by con-ducting a business in a residence zone.

MORE SCHOOL BURGLARIES

Two more schools in this city were broken into over the week-end. The breaks were discovered on Monday morning when evidences of the thieves' visits were discovered at the Mason School, Newton Highlands. At the Mason School a small amount of money was stolen. At the Hyde School nothing was discovered missing but at both buildings the burglars caused damage in effecting entrance and in searching for loot.

free wheeling

-not the feature of a season but the future of an industry

NFORMED automotive engineers knew the whole future of the motor car was affected when Studebaker successfully introduced Free Wheeling with positive gear control on July 10, 1930.

These men recognized at once that Studebaker had solved a problem as old as motoring—the problem of controlling momentum and putting

They knew that Free Wheeling, as Studebaker offered it, went straight to the root of applied dynamics—giving the car that offered it a superiority which no car without it could contest.

That is why you are hearing so much more about Free Wheeling today than you did when Studebaker first introduced it. If all cars had it now, the public would save hundreds of millions of dollars in gasoline and oil expense every year.

Free Wheeling has brought Studebaker thoroughness and initiative into the limelight more conspicuously than ever.

Today every Studebaker gives you Free Wheeling. All cars will be aspiring to give it to you tomorrow. It gives you 10,000 miles of travel for 8,000 miles of engine effort - greatly reduced operation and maintenance cost—new safety—new ease of driving.

It means much that these cars come to you with the greatest engineering advancement since the electric starter. But it means even more that they bear the name of Studebaker, distinguished in transportation for more than half the lifetime of the American nation.

Studebaker cars are priced f. o. b. factory from $795 to $2600

INTERNATIONAL RELA-TIONS CONFERENCE. What prom-ises to be one of the most worthwhile and interesting events of the Club and interesting events of the Club year, with a list of internationally-known speakers is the International Relations Conference, under the auspices of Miss Helena B. Shipman, chairman, which will take place at the University Club, Trinity place, Boston, on January 29, at 1.30 p. m. Greetings will be given by Miss Shipman, and a short address by the State Federation president, Mrs. Carl L. Schrader. Mrs. Azel A. Packard, vice-chairman of International Relations in the General Federation and adviser to this department, will bring greetings, and there will be violin selections by Mr. Henry Volk. The speakers for this department, will bring greetings, and there will be violin selections by Mr. Henry Volk. The speakers for the afternoon will be as follows: "International Relations in my Club," by three club chairmen; "The International Scene," by Mr. Leonard W. Cronkhite, one of the trustees of World Peace Foundation, a director in the League of Nations Association, Massachusetts Branch, and for many years president of the American Rhodes Scholars; "Economic Depressions and the Isolated State," by Mr. J. Anton de Haas, professor of foreign Trade at Harvard University; "The Present Political Situation in Germany," by Professor Carl J. Friedrich, of the Department of Government at Harvard; and "India and Her Critics," by Thomas Jacob, M.A.B.S.D.D., of Calicut, India. A period for questions, and a reception and tea will follow, and it is urged that everyone stay who can, to enjoy this unusual opportunity for contacts.

CONSERVATION CONFERENCE.

CONSERVATION CONFERENCE.
A Conservation Conference will be held on January 39, at 10 a. m., in the Salle Moderne of the Hotel Statler, with the chairman of the division, Mrs. Robert Parmenter, presiding. Greetings will be given by the State president, Mrs. Carl L. Schrader, who will be guest of honor; by Mrs. John H. Kimball, third vice-president and Adviser to the Division of Conservation;

Newtonville Woman's Club

"The Art of Table Setting and the Romance of Silver", an interesting lecture, prepared and presented by the Thomas Long Company of Boston, is to be the feature of the meeting of the Newtonville Woman's Club, on Tuesday afternoon, January 27, at 2:30 o'clock in the Central Congregational Church

Church.

To women who entertain extensively, or to those who play hostess modestly, this talk will be of equal interest. The presentation is cleverly woven around an imaginary dinner which is served by Miss Mary Langan before her audience. The proper silver and other table appointments are placed in their correct positions, and a description of their uses given. The silver and china used will be furnished by the Thomas Long Company.

furnished by the Thomas Long Company.

This interesting and instructive lecture is sponsored by the American Home committee, of which Mrs. Bion M. Weatherhead is chairman.

The second of the series of Mrs. Grace Morrison Poole's lectures on Current Events will be held on Thursday morning, January 29, at 10:15 o'clock. These meetings are open to Club members, but guest tickets may be obtained at fifty cents etch.

Forty dollars of the money realized from the sale of bulbs and plants at the Garden Festival held last fall, is to be given to the State Forest at Petersham. This sale was conducted by Mrs. Waldo W. Walker, chairman, and the members of the Conservation committee.

A three-day "Exhibit" under the aus pices of the American Home committee, with the co-operation of the Music and Art committees, will be held on Saturday, Sunday, and Monday, January 24, 25 and 26, from 10:30 a. m. to 9:30 p. m., in the Workshop of the Woman's Club of Newton Highlands Models and house plans, together with suggestions for interior decorating will be on view. On Saturday afternoon, the American Home committee of the Newton Federation will be guests of the local committee.

The men of the community are especially invited to attend on Saturday evening, when Mr. H. J. Smith will give a short illustrated talk on the evolution of the home life in New England from the Wooden Age of the earliest settlers to the Electrical Age of modern home-makers.

On Sunday afternoon, the Music committee will provide an informal program; and on Monday Miss Mary E. Langan of the Thomas Long Jew-elry Company will give a talk on "The Art of Table Setting and the Romance of Silver". Tea will be served every afternoon.

In connection with this exhibit, the of Silver". Tea will be served every afternoon.

In connection with this exhibit, the Newton Highlands branch of the Public Library has provided a table of books on house-building and decoration, which are available for reference on these subjects.

Rehearsals for the Annual Dramatics, which will be given on February 17 are well under way. The three-act comedy, "Love in a Mist", will be presented under the direction of Mrs. Arthur F. Brown, chairman of the Dramatic committee, with Mrs. James S. Gove coaching. The cast, which has been selected from a group who have had wide experience in this work, is composed entirely of Club members, a fact which always makes home dramatics especially attractive.

The January meeting of the Execuive Board of the Newton Federation of Women's Clubs will be held on Tuesday, January 27, at 2.30 p. m., in the library of the Technical High School, Newtonville.

The most noteworthy event, and one of keen interest, the Dramatic committee, of which Mrs. Edward A. Andrews is chairman and Mrs. Worthing L. West, vice-chairman, will present "The Alarm Clock", a comedy by Avery Hopwood, to be produced by special arrangement with Samuel French of New York. The cast includes Mr. Lex K. Souter, Mr. Douglass Francis, Mr. Samuel Fuller, Jr., Mr. Norman Mitchell, Miss Josephine Tyler, Mrs. Henry T. Dunker, Miss Molly Draper, and Miss Celeste Callaghan. Once again, the Club is indebted to Mr. H. A. Tomlinson, who will coach the play.

Immediately following the play there will be coffee and doughnuts and frappes for sale, and dancing will be enjoyed during the remainder of the vening. The dates for the play are February 6 and 7, at 7:45 p. m. Tickets may be obtained from any member of the Ways and Means committee. This is the final activity for the year, and therefore the large response asked for should be forthcoming for this entertaining offering. Social Science Club will be on January 28, at 10.30 o'clock, at the home of Mrs. Freelan O. Stanley, 337 Waverley avenue, Newton. The program will take the form of a musicale. The hostesses are to be Mrs. Freelan O. Stanley and Mrs. Sterling Elliott. Mrs. F. I. Keith was hostess for the Shakespeare Club on January 17. At a previous meeting, Miss Edith M. McCann conducted the opening work on the Study of King Henry VIII by giving the historical setting and tracing the history from King Henry V to King Henry VIII, also introducing the three great characters of the play—King Henry, Queen Katherine, and Cardinal Wolsey. At this meeting Mrs. Alan McIntosh took up the work following the impeachment of Buckingham, outlining the cunning of Cardinal Wolsey, the cruelty and self-indulgence of the King, and the noble, just-minded, truly charitable Queen Katherine, who is one of the long-enduring sufferers who gives moral gravity and grandeur to Shapespeare's last plays.

(Continued on page 9) Mrs. F. I. Keith was hostess for the RADIO. Miss Phoebe Lee Hosmer, chairman of Literature and Drama, is featuring the West Roxbury Woman's Club in a broadcast from WBZA next Thursday afternoon, January 29, at 1.30 o'clock. A one-act play, "Enter Piggie," will be the attraction. This play was written and adapted for radio by Mrs. M. C. L. Whittemore, a member of the Club, and with the exception of the male role played by Mr. James B. Henderson, the cast including Mrs. Harold H. Martin, Mrs. G. Edward Youngberg and Mrs. Edamund S. Phinney are all Club members. Mrs. Norman A. Dubois, vice-chairman of Literature in the State Federation, is in charge of the studio presentation.

HIGH SCHOOL SENIOR PLAY

The annual Senior Play of the Newton High School will be staged this afternoon at 2:30 and tomorrow evening at 8:15 at the high school auditorium. "Green Stockings" is the name of the production this year. Celia Farraday is represented in the opening act as the supposedly unmarriageable eldest of four sisters. The series of incidents by which she becomes very popular among the men make this drama both amusing and exciting. Students taking part are Richard Kemper, Arthur Williams, Douglas Chalmers, Sewall Logan, Richard Shaw, Gilbert Chandler, Kenneth Young, Cynthia Junice Leavitt and Lila Cavanaugh.

NO LOAFING AT UNEMPLOYMENT COMMITTEE'S QUARTERS

ONE THING AND ANOTHER By L. D. G. BENTLEY

Every now and then I listen to a man who thinks he would like to cut off city life and "buy a nice little home in the country." He is usually one who knows little or nothing about running a farm and his only experience has been as a looker-on in the beautiful months of Summer when everything is fine and dandy in the rural sections. Still, you couldn't convince this man that whatever privations, discomforts, etc., he might have to endure would not be preferable to his present existence. He insists that one could have an ideal life in an attractive out-of-the-way place where he could raise chickens. His notion is that chicken-raising is something anybody can do without previous knowledge and with the aid of a hen-house and a few implements to be purchased at a well known store.

Far be it from me to discourage one who dreams. Our greatest men have been dreamers. Whether our best known poultrymen dreamed of their understakings before starting in is another matter. I have my doubts for those whom I have encountered appeared to be practical and business-like. Furthermore, they seemed to think that the amateur chicken-raisers was a bit too optimistic.

Recently several people have at different times informed me that living in the counter of the counter was a bit too optimistic.

Recently several people have at different times informed me that living in the country was not all that it is sometimes cracked-up to be. One man said, "I'll admit that country-life has its charms, but things are getting so now that you can't hire help around the farm as in the good old days. Men will not work at the ordinary farm wage; they want shorter hours and higher pay. I find that running a farm is not a cinch."

The testimony of a woman in one of

is not a cinch."

The testimony of a woman in one of our smaller Middlesex county towns impressed me. She said, "I have had to get rid of chickens and about all the stock I had, including a cow. Labor is not cheap. On the contrary it is too expensive. The things I used to raise on my own place I now buy from a neighbor. He and his sons run their farm and in that way make it profitable. For a lone woman it is a task that is beyond me."

Successes, however, are not infreyour country.

Newton has always been noted for Newton has always been noted for its generosity. Its people have responded to the many calls with commendable alacrity. Added to these admirable qualities of citizenship the contributions have been made with the very smallest measure of bally-hoo. Somehody said something about giving doubly if one gives quickly. To this I should like to add and "without making a lot of talk about it."

Are you a patron of the public library and, if so, do you ever forget to return a book on or before the day on which it was due? These are fair questions between friends and if you'll answer I may tell you the reason for asking. Furthermore, I should like to know if there are forgetful people like myself who are compelled to pay a penalty for their absent-mindedness, said penalty being two cents a day. By the way, there's something that hasn't gone up like everything else. Forgetfulness, as far as a public library book is concerned, is as cheap as ever. Doesn't this off-set the sage observations that not to remember may prove expensive? The economic pressure hasn't shot up the fines on borrowed books but that to library trustees wish to encourage misplacing and overlooking loaned youmes.

Most people are ready to pay fines

A PLAY FOR CHILDREN

Remember that Aladdin is coming with his wonderful lamp to the Newton High School Auditorium on Saturday afternoon, January 31 at 2.15 o'clock. Aladdin is a real play for a children presented by the Lend-A-Hand Masque. At the first performance in Brookline in December this play proved most entertaining for adults also because of the unusual Oriental costuming and scenery as well as the good work done by each member of the cast.

An added attraction at this second performance will be an interesting program of music by pupils of the All Newton Music School.

The proceeds from the play will be for the benefit of one of Newton's rown charities, namely, the West Newton Community Centre, Inc.

Mr. Walter MacCammon remarked that the bus terminal and new street were auxiliary to the need of an adequate parking space such as could be created in the rear of the Stevens Building. He expressed the belief that the Paramount theatre might aid in bringing this about. Mr. J. N. Snider, manager of the local theatre, unofficially stated that his organization was at present gathering data on such a proposed parking area and that they would in all probability bear part of the expense. After further considerable discussion on both the Pearl court parking area and the bus terminal a motion was made by James Melcher that the entire report of the committee as to all recommendations the proposed street be "of proper width". Later this vote was amended the proposed street be "of proper width". Later this vote was amended f width". Later this vote was amended to instruct the committee to convey the vote of the meeting to the Mayor with the addition of the words "that the street be as wide as possible without encountering prohibitive expense."

ABOUT TOWN

Possibly you may have noticed that the rates on compulsory automobile insurance have been gradually and considerably increasing year by year. This has been caused by many thousands of spurious claims having been made by unscrupulous persons who have had, in many cases, the connivance of dishonest lawyers and physicians. A couple of years ago there was much ado about this evil and it was announced that a vigorous campaign was to be started against lawyers who had been active in obtaining insurance payments through fraudulent claims. But, this campaign, for some reason or other, never material

ROTARY CLUB

Major General Wm. G. Everson was e speaker this week at the Monday on Rotary meeting at the Woodland the speaker this week at the Monday noon Rotary meeting at the Woodland Golf Club. He gave a vigorous and stirring address on the selfishness which is at the root of the trouble between the nations as he has seen it in European conferences and elsewhere. It is not the soldiers who make wars but the selfish nations who later must have the soldiers to carry out their policies of hate and revenge. To the United States more than to any other nation comes the challenge to lead the way in international relations. Who is Uncle Sam, asked the speaker. Each one of us is Uncle Sam, is the answer. Therefore, to each individual comes the call to do his bit in such a way as to usher in a new and better time. Service above salf should be each one's ideal. The Club was honored by this visit through the courtesy of Dr. Herrick, president of the Newton Theological Institute, of which Major General Everson was at one time a student.

SUCCESSFUL PERFORMANCE

An audience of more than four hundred attended the production of "He Who Gets Slapped," the second of a series of three plays by the Newton Dramatic Club, last Wednesday evening at the Newton Centre Woman's Clubhouse. The play was admirably coached by Mrs. Everett W. Varney of Newton Centre. The stage settings, made to represent a room outside the "big tent," was realistically achieved. Hassler Capron of Newton Centre was the stage director.

The actors were excellently cast for their parts and are to be congratulated for their portrayal of the several difficult characters. Among the local people who took part in the performance included Dorothe Barton, well-known for her specialty dances; George H. Rand and Coleman Lamont of Newtonville; Frank C. Peabody, Jane Nickerson, and Leslie Woodman of Newton Highlands.

The president of the club, Mrs. Albert R. JOHN E. TITUS

JOHN E. TITUS

Mr. John E. Titus of 1129 Boylston street, Newton Upper Falls, died on January 18, at his home. His death was the result of a shock that followed an illness of two weeks. He had long suffered from angina. He was seventy-one years old.

He was born in Brooklyn, New York, but lived the later part of his life in Newton. He had worked with Olmstead Brothers, and was at one time a member of the firm of Coolidge & Titus, landscape architects. After the partnership was dissolved he went in business for himself as a landscape architect and surveyor in Newton. He was identified with much of the development of Needham. He was for many years a member of the Congregational Church of Newton Highlands. He was also a member of the Boston Society of Civil Engineers. He leaves a widow, May R. Titus; one son, Arthur Edward Titus of Wollaston; and three daughters, Olive Titus Draper (Mrs. Elwyn B.) of Swampscott, Marjorie Titus Taylor (Mrs. Howard A.) of Waltham, Dorothy T. Matthews (Mrs. Adrian M.) of Newton Upper Falls, and three grandchildren. Mr. Titus' sister Katie Bakewell (Mrs. Ezra) is living in Brooklyn, New York.

Beautiful, simple services were held at his home, 1129 Boylston street, Newton Upper Falls. The Reverend Ben Roberts, pastor of the Newton Highlands Congregational Church, conducted the services.

audience at the outset, which were maintained throughout the afternoon. INSERT before List of Dates—Follow Newtonville W. C. That the Club members and guests were deeply interested in all that Dr. Brown had to say was shown by the continued applause, and the many questions which were asked him at the close of the afternoon. The necessary qualities of a biographer were first noted, followed by the necessary essentials to be the subject of a biographe. Besides being accurate and having imagination, Dr. Brown said that the biographer must be fundamentally in sympathy with the one that the biographer must be fundamentally in sympathy with the one about whom he writes. If he is antagonistic, he cannot see the virtues hidden beneath the surface. As an instance of this, the biographer of Mrs. Mary Baker Eddy ought to be one who has the same religious belief. The subject of a biography must have individuality, aspiration, and dynamic tension, which gives out a singing quality to his life, said Dr. Brown. Examples of these qualities were drawn from the lives of Basil King, Emily Dickenson, Raphael Pumpelly and Whistler, whose biographies appear in "Lonely Americans." By lonely Americans, Dr. Brown explained, he did not mean men without friends, but rather, mean men without friends, but rather, men who were so far ahead of the crowd that they were isolated. Two kinds of misunderstood men are spoken of in this book. One kind is misunderstood because the newspapers give wrong information about them, and the other because people are ignorant about them. The artist, Whistler, was a perfect example of the first class. The press pictured him as a spit-fire, a wise-cracker and a dandy, but in a letter written by him to his mother in Concord, which Dr. Brown read, he was revealed as an entirely different character. Such examples and presentation on the part mean men without friends, but rather, amples and presentation on the part of the speaker held the interest of his Welfare Chest The Newton Federation of Women's Clubs received the honor of special mention by Mrs. Carl L. Schrader, chairman of the Women's Sub-Committee of Unemployment, and president of the State Federation, in her Bulletin this week, in which she thanks and congratulates the women who are doing such splendid work in Relief in their communities. Under the able leadership of Mrs. Samuel N. Braman there is being carried forward in Newton a similar Welfare Chest as the State is sponsoring with headquarters at the John Hancock Building, 90 St. James avenue, Boston. Mrs. Schrader states that the entire effect of relief work can not be measured by the results in the State headquarters alone, due to the excellent organizations in other communities for local assistance, and in this connection she cites the organization at Newton of the Newton Federation of Women's Club.

Mrs. Scrader urges that this good work be continued State-wide, and suggests that employees may aid by asking employees to bring or send bundles of clothing to the Welfare Chest headquarters.

The work of the Norumbega Dis-

The work of the Norumbega District Council often has extensions in directions known only to a few. One of these occurred recently. A young woman who attended the District Young People's Conference at Watertown asked the Executive Secretary for a copy of the story, "For He was a Jew," told last year at the Newton-ville Leadership Training School. Upon receiving the story, she used it in her Newton church and at a friend's church in Boston. The minister in Boston was so impressed with the message of the story that he has since used its theme in a sermon.

Another interesting result from the Y. P. Conference may be noted here. A certain church school superintendent attended with 17 of his young people. On the following Sunday in his church school he arranged for a unique review of the material presented by Dr. Gilkey at the Conference. He listed on the blackboard the seven Christian attitudes mentioned by Dr. Gilkey, and asked his young people in open forum style to give percentages to these seven attitudes so as to evaluate their importance, assuming that the percentages should total 100 points. The percentage results were as follows:

Respect for every human being 25

Dr. Griggs To Give Read Fund Lectures

Shakesperian Plays As Subject For Five Talks

The Underwood School auditorius at Newton is expected to be filled to capacity next week Friday evening when Dr. E. Hoawrd Griggs begins the forty-seventh series of lectures under the auspices of the Read Fund Foundation. Dr. Griggs, who is appearing here for the seventh consecu pearing here for the seventh consecutive year, has chosen five Shakespearean plays for his subjects. The lectures will be given every Friday evening in February and the first week in March at eight o'clock.

In previous lectures Dr. Griggs has created a large following in Newton as he has throughout the country. His power as a lecturer and teacher lies in his rare ability to stimulate and kindle the minds of his audiences. He has studied the plays of Shakespeare carefully and intelligently. He is a thinker, has a keen appreciation of the beautiful and poetic, has a good command of language, expresses himself easily and clearly and above all is sincere.

Stone and Webster, under the supervision of Allan Duff, has made a survey of the office needs of the different city departments looking a hundred years into the future. The first tuition case discussed was that of a family who had, with the exception of the father, taken up their residence in this city in order that the three children could attend the Newton schools. The father, who has been in business in Canada for the past twelve years, is a United States citizen and formerly lived and voted in this city. The committee after considerable discussion voted that it was a tuition case. vas a tuition case.

The second case involved that of a boy whose parents live in Springfield and he is boarding in Newton to attend the schools here and also to receive medical treatment in Boston not available in Springfield. The committee also ruled that this was a tuition case.

The third case was that where the parents of the boy attending the New-ton schools had leased their property here, furnished, and had temporarily taken up residence in Brookline. The committee ruled that while the family did not maintain a residence here tuition should be paid.

A communication was received from Florence L. Heard stating that the net receipts from a lecture given for the benefit of the Stearns School Centre were $560.05. This lecture was given by Major Steele of the Canadian "Mountles."

The following statement by the Wa-ter Commissioner is in explanation of the changes made recently in the plan of billing the householders of the city in order that all may understand the bills received this January:

bills received this January:

The water bills as formerly rendered, in January of any year, by the Water Department, consisted of two parts,—first an advance charge for the current year equal to the minimum charge per service, and second the charge for all water used in the previous year in excess of the minimum billed for that year. Bills were rendered in July to all consumers whose consumption of water between January and July exceeded the minimum.

whose consumption of water between January and July exceeded the minimum.

In the period of transition between this annual, or in some cases, semi-annual billing, and the new system of quarterly billing, it is naturally necessary to include in the first bill so rendered an advance charge of $2.25 for the first three months (1-4 of the annual minimum) and also a charge for any excess water used during the year 1930 and not previously billed.

The department calls your attention to the fact that 'he accompanying bill is therefore not to be assumed to be 1-4 of your total yearly bill. All bills rendered during January, February and March, on which a credit of $10.00 is allowed, cover a period of from fourteen to fifteen months' use of water. All bills on which no credit is given (single line bills) cover a period of from eight to nine months' actual use of water.

The department feels that by reading all meters at shorter intervals and by rendering quarterly bills, it can materially assist the consumers in controlling waste of water, and consequently forestall unnecessarily high bills. By issuing our bills in three sections (1 each month) rather than to bill the whole city at one time, we feel that we will be in a position to give more prompt attention to the investigation of all corsplaints. You will receive your bill from now on at intervals of three months. We sincerely trust you will like this new system.

MAIL CAMPAIGN YIELDS RESULTS

As a result of the mail campaign As a result of the mail campaign for contributions for the relief of the unemployed of the city, $3,000 was received during the past week. This amount brought the foral so far raised to $30,000. The Mayor's Relief Committee has set for its goal $100,000. This will be reached when the total rises to $80,000, as several citizens have promised the remaining $20,000 when that amount has been raised.

TIME LOCKS PLACED ON SCHOOL VAULTS

Following repeated schoolhouse breaks, the latest of which was at the Warren Junior High School where the value was broken open with a ham-mer, the School Committee has placed time locks on the vaults of all the schools. These locks are expected to make the vaults proof against every-thing except the acetylene torch or powerful explosives.

John P. Meade of Brockton, a member of the State Board of Labor and Concillation, eulogized Mr. Moriarty's efforts in behalf not only of his fellow employees in Newton, but in behalf of all workers in this State. He told the gathering that Newton people do not realize the part Mr. Moriarty has played during the past 20 years in having much progressive legislation enacted for the benefit of the impression Mr. Moriarty has made at the State House by his devotion to duty, his fairness and his gentlemanly bearing. Senator Arthur W. Hollis told of his life-long friendship with the guest of the evening and of the benefit which Mr. Moriarty has sobtained for city employees in Newton. Ex-Mayor Edwin O. Childs related the harmonious relations which had existed between himself and Mr. Moriarty during the 16 years he held office. Mr. Childs aroused the gathering to enthusiasm when he said: "Moriarty and I worked together for 15 years and we may work together again. While at present I am in political retirement, I am not asleep," State House and of the influence he has there. Others who spoke were former Alderman John Madden, Alderman George W. Heathcote, who also anneed that he is not asleep, in though in temporary political retirement.

In behalf of his fellow employees, Charles Mahoney, district foreman of the Street Department presented Mr. Moriarty with a large purse of gold:

THE WEEK IN NEWTON SPORTS

NEWTON CAPTAIN WINS THREE FIRSTS

Captain Milton Greene of the Newton High school track team captured three first places in the first half of the annual Newton-Brookline track meet last Saturday at Brookline to send the orange and black into a lead that should bring the local team through to an overwhelming victory a week from tomorrow when the second half of the meet will be staged at Newton. Last week Captain Greene and his mates scored 52 2/3 points to 24 1/3 for the Wealthy Towners on the latter's track. Competing on their own track next week the local runners should do nearly as well although a number of upsets occurred at Brookline.

runners could make up the distance lost.

SPORT NOTES

George C. Colburn of Grasmere street, Newton, a senior at New Hampshire University has been elected captain of the varsity hockey team for the present season. He is a veteran defense player, this being his third season with the Wildeat varsity. As a freshman he played both football and hockey teams but since then has concentrated on the ice sport. He may be a candidate for the varsity baseball team this coming spring. Before entering New Hampshire he was a three-sport star in football, hockey and baseball, at Williston Academy.

NEWTON FARES ENFORCED IDLENESS NO HELP TO NEWTON

NO HELP TO NEWTON

The recent mild spell and the loss of an outdoor ice surface may be considerable of a handicap to the Newton high school hockey team during the next week. Coach Dr. Martin's outfit journeyed to Andover last Saturday and showed its ability by returning home with a 1 to 0 victory over the same team that had held the strong Melrose high sextet, pace-setters in the interscholastic league race, to an overtime tie just a few days previous. The Newton team had just begun to come and the enforced idleness of the past week has been of no help. The local outfit was forced to postpone its league affair with Belmont, scheduled for last Monday, and to call off the trip to St. Mark's school in Southboro on Wednesday. The calling off of the Belmont game now gives the orange and black four league games which must be staged sometime if the schedule is to be completed. The much discussed Melrose game was the first on the list. The game scheduled at Stoneham was the next and then came the game with Arlington high. This was originally listed as an indoor game at the Boston Garden for tomorrow afternoon but because of the track games there tomorrow night no ice is available and the games were advanced to last Saturday. However, both Newton and Arlington had previously arranged games with Andover and Exeter academies, respectively.

Next week Newton has a league game scheduled with Cambridge Latin at Cambridge on Monday or Tuesday, one with the High School of Commerce at Newtonville on Wednesday and its most important clash of the year at the Boston Garden on Saturday against Melrose.

Charlie Butler, six foot five inch defence player, was the lad who brought victory to Newton against Andover defence to get a close shot at the academy net to beat Sumner, the goalie.

The falling temperature last night brings the Newton sextet into prompt action again with the play-off of its postponed game with Arlington scheduled to take place tomorrow morning at Bullough's Pond.

The Newton high school basketball The Newton high school basketball team dropped two more contests the past week, both to Suburban league opponents although the team showed marked improvement in all departments of the game. WELL ON DRAW Drawings for positions in the track events at the fourth annual Northeastern Interscholastic games, which will be staged tomorrow afternoon at the Boston "Y" track, were made Wednesday. Newton fared extremely well in all but the 600-yard run. In the 300 Newton drew the pole in the first heat with Brockton second and Trade School of Boston third. Four heats and a final will be run. in the 600-yard run Newton drew seventh in the first heat. Two heats and a final will be run in this event. Newton also drew a front row position in the first heat of the 1000-yard run. Boston High School of Commerce has the pole, Newton second, Fairhaven third, Lawrence fourth, Quincy fifth, Winthrop sixth, Trade seventh and Lynn English eighth. Two heats against time will be run with the points being awarded to the best individual clockings. Walter Holmes, Newton's star colored sprinter, will have the first lane in the third heat of the dash and will have as his opponents Gigante of Commerce and Neill of Quincy. Captain Milton Greene of Newton has the first lane in the fourth heat of the hurdles and will have as his opponents Boyd of Lawrence, Yanaro of Boston Trade, Hill of Quincy and Foss of Lynn English.

the hurdles and will have as his opponents Boyd of Lawrence, Yanaro of Boston Trade, Hill of Quincy and Foss of Lynn English.

Newton has a fair chance of winning the meet with possibilities of scoring in every event except the 600-yard run as the 1930 orange and black team is exceptionally wellbalanced. This fact will make Newton the favorite although Medford, Lynn English, Lawrence and Brockton are among the other foremost contenders who will press Newton closely, Limiting entries to one from each school in the 300, 600 and 1090yard runs, which is necessary in order to do away with innumerable trial heats, will be one of the major handicaps to the local outfit. Newton has two good athletes in several events,
Another factor that may handicap
Newton is that the athletes must com-caps to the local outfit. Newton has two good athletes in several events.

Another factor that may handleap Newton is that the athletes must compete in rubber-soled shoes instead of spike shoes which are used at Newton. Many of the other schools will also be under the same handleap.
A number of exceptional dash men are entered against Holmes of Newton and he will have his work cut out to come through. He should win a place with Constantine Satchebell of Brighton, Arthur Jannell of Lynn English and D. Southers of Medford as his chief opponents. Satchebell is the only record holder in this year's meet.
Last year he clipped a fifth of a second off the former mark held jointly by Ewing of Newton in 1929 and White of Medford in 1928. Satchebell is one of three of the 1930 champions entered this year.
Captain Greene should have little difficulty in getting into the finals of the hurdles. The opposition in his trial heat is not regarded as exceptionally strong. In the finals it will be a different story. Greene will have to be at his best to break the tape against Chester Litman of Brookline and the other finalists which may include Halloway of Lynn Classical.
Douglas Sloane will be Newton's other dash competitor and Elliot
Bradley the second entry in the hurdles.

well up in the relay races to be assured of another win. The leading teams appear to be Medford, Brookine, Newton, Lawrence and Brockton. Coach Enoch has a number of runners upon whom he can call to make up his quartet. Douglas Sloane may lead off and will probably pass the baton over to Robert Bell. Albert Guzzi and Dick Jarrell may complete the quartet with the latter possibly giving way to Cahill. If Cahill fails to place in his heat in the 300 he quite likely will run the anchor leg on the relay.

Medford high will make a strong bid to win its third Northeastern title and capture a prize which has been offered for the team to accomplish such a feat. Medford won in 1928 and in 1930 with Newton taking the 1923 affair. The first year of the meet Medford scored 29 points to double that of its nearest competitor, Lawrence. Newton was not entered. In 1929 Ewing and Pescosolido finished one, two in the finals of the dash, Reynolds won the 600 and took third in the hurdles and the relay team finished third to total 16½ points and defeat Brockton by a point and a half. ONE THING AND ANOTHER

Come to find out, this matter of collecting fines for overdue public it been made in this column, is of greater importance to Newton than many think. Did you know that last year a total of $6,100 was paid by forgetful, or otherwise delinquent borrowers? This is the highest total on record, it is growing and more people are reading or borrowing.

The figures surprised me, especially when I learned that in Newton the penalty is two cents a day for adults its growing and more people are reading or borrowing.

The figures surprised me, especially when I learned that in Newton the penalty is two cents a day for adults in the penalty is two cents a day for adults of the penalty is two cents and fully sum and has been a welcome addition to the city treasury. The amount thus collected not only reveals that numerous borrowers are carelested of public library books is a task of no small proportions. The whole city is included and the amount of forgetting, or whatever it is, seems to average the same in each section.

The figure of the penalty is two that happens in certain cases. Some borrowers do worse than your limagine. The first reminder that is sent out is a posterarl. Most of the worse of fetton are those most and the penalty is two that is merely because more fiction is read. All kinds of books and all kinds of people become involved in this literary mix-up. Children of the penalty of the penalty

If suggestions are in order I desire to make bold and express the hope that with a new police court and new police headquarters in West Newton the opposite side of Washington street will receive attention from private investors. Where the Players Hall stood is a condition that might easily be remedied. The kind of building I would have on this site is not another moving picture palace but a building that would fill a community need that has long existed. I refer to a playhouse that would be available for amateurs but not confined to the presentation of theatrical performances.

Coming Events

Waban Woman's Club

Owing to an unavoidable confusion of dates, Professor Robert E. Rogers was unable to address the Waban Woman's Club, on November 17 as was originally planned. He will be present at the Club on February 2 and will speak on "The American Theatre of Today". Mrs. Robert Estabrook, assisted by Mrs. Rogers Dowwill have charge of the social hour. Mrs. George W. Souther and Mrs. R. Gladwin will pour.

On February 6 and 7, at the Waban Neighborhood Club, the Dramatic committee, Mrs. Robert W. Moore, chairman, is presenting "in the Next Room", a mystery play in three acts, by Eleanor Robson and Harriet Ford. The play is being produced under the direction of Mr. George N. Roberts, who has put on many successful plays in Waban. The cast, which is made up entirely of residents of Waban, includes: Mrs. Robert T. Bushnell, Mrs. Edward Blake, Misshellen Ellis, Mr. George R. Walker, Mr. Doane Arnold, Mr. John A. Hiller, Mr. Henry C. Short, Mr. H. J. Pettengill, Jr., Mr. H. Allan Spiller, Jr., Mr. Gilbert S. Hamlin, and Dr. H. L. Andrews. The scenery is being done by Mrs. Mayeren K. Russell. Properties are in charge of Mrs. Albert H. Houghton.

The play will be followed each evening by dancing, with Evans Stanwood's Broadcasting Orchestra, supplying the music.

The proceeds of the play will be added to the Club's contribution to the Waban Library Fund.

RECENT EVENTS

Newton Community Club

At the meeting of the Newton Community Club in Underwood School Hall on Thursday, January 22, an unusually fine musical program was arranged. The president, Mrs. Henry P. Curtiss, presided, and a number of integration of the community of the co interesting announcements were made.

Mrs. Curtiss then introduced Mr.

Lloyd A. Stonestreet, director of the gave a brief but interesting explanation of the musical instruments used, and of the program to be presented. This is the second visit of these artists, all of whom are Boston Symphony Players, to the Newton Community Club. The members of the Panharmonic Orchestral Club are: Mr. L. Stonestreet, violinist. Mr. R. Tapley, Violinist; Mr. G. Blandel, Flutist; Mr. H. Stanislaus, Oboe; Mr. R. Boardman, Piano; and Mr. E. Allegra, clarinet.

inet. The The program included Joseph Haydn's "Symphony No. 2, D. Major"; "Impression"; Claud Debussy's "Petite Suite"; Grieg's "March of the Dwarfs"; and Bizet's "Farandole."
One of the interesting contrasts was the first groups by Haydn and the suite by Debussy, comparing the dif-ference in old and more modern music. It was an altogether satisfying and pleasing program presented in a most inished manner by exceptional talent.

CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR NEWS

Miss Bessie McCassie of Newton, missionary chairman of the Norumbega Christian Endeavor Union, reports fine work in this department for the past month, eleven of the twelve Senior societies reporting missionary activities.

Mrs. Margaret Bachelder, the new pastor's wife at the North Congregational Church (Nonantum) will be in charge of the Christian Endeavor meeting next Sunday evening when she will take for her subject "The Young People's Society in the Program of the Church".

Last Sunday the Senior Endeavorers of the Lincoln Park Baptist Church (West Newton) held their annual election of officers with the following result: Betty Brooks, president; Mr. J. T. Browder, vice-president; Mr. Wetton Jones, secretary-treasurer: Corinne Boyd, prayer-meeting; Charlotte Stearns, lookout; Melvin Lane, social. Next Sunday these young people will be installed by their pastor, Rev. John Shade Franklin.

had spread to many European, Asiatic, and South American countries. In 1895 the World's Christian Endeavor Union was incorporated under the laws of Massachusetts and the year following its first convention was held in Washington. D. C. At the second World's convention in London in 1906 many thousands of delegates represented nearly all the countries of the world. Much of the growth of the movement was due to the untring efforts of the founder, the late Dr. Clark, who resided in Auburndale for many years. Dr. Clark and his wife spent much of their time traveling throughout the world in the interests of the organization.

The first ten years of the twentieth century showed another period of growth. In Ohio the work increased so that a full-time secretary was employed in promotional work. In 1906 the Massachusetts Union opened its first summer conference at Sagamore Beach, later transferred to Northfield Seminary where over eight hundred are in attendance at the annual summer conferences. In 1917 a fine building was constructed at 41 Mt. Vernon street. Boston, where the offices of the World's Christian Endeavor Union and the International Society of C. E. are located.

In 1925 Dr. Clark retired from active leadership and Dr. Daniel A. Poling succeeded him. On the death of Dr. Clark in 1929 Dr. Polling was also chosen president of the World's Union.

The last three international conventions were held in Portland, Ore, Cleveland, O., and Kansas City, Mo. In London in 1926 in answer to the sidered.

The Directors of Religious Education in the District will meet with the Young People's Committee of the District on Thursday morning at 11 a. m., at the office of Mr. Frank H. Grebe, Second Church, West Newton. The Executive Secretary of the District has been called into consultation to make a missionary education plan that can be used for a church school in the District. This plan will be available, to any other churches interested. Last Thursday evening the Secreable, to any other churches interested.

Last Thursday evening the Secretary attended a meeting of the church school teachers and the official board of Immanuel M. E. Church at Waltham, and found there an unusually fine organization, with reports of progressive work in every department. She was pleased to note that all the department heads have attended frequently the Norumbega District School of Religious Education.

Nobscot Reservation

The Unemployment Division with Mr. Leon B. Rogers as Chairman, of the Mayor's Relief Committee has employed 12 men to cut burned timber on the Reservation. In addition to providing these men with work, the timber is being cut into stove lengths and will be provided to needy families in Newton.

With the work of these means of the control of th the performance of the drama in West Newton.

The pocketbook had reposed but for a brief time on the sidewalk when along Washington street perambulated Augustus Wilson (alias Gussie Wilskins) a young man profesionally associated with Mr. Cook. Mr. Wilson found the pocketbook which had been "planted" on the sidewalk simultaneously with Mr. Cōok sighting the wallet. It was a big, fat pocketbook, obese with money, or certainly with paper that looked like money. Mr. Cook walked over to Mr. Wilson and they excitedly discussed the find. No person was in sight who might have lost the wallet. Neither did the pocket-book contain any papers which would identify its owner So, Mr. Wilson and Mr. Cook agreed to divide the money and they also talked Mrs. Coleman into giving them §93 as a deposit of good faith, in return for which she was to share one-third of the contents of the pocketbook provided the owner was not found.

Mr. Wilson took the $69 and started for the bank at West Newton to arrange for the interning of the cash. With the work of these men and others who are cutting there, the de-vastated area of the Reservation will be thoroughly cleaned and ready for forestation in April.

Announcement that the city will not improve the surface of Washington street between Newton Corner and West Newof Washington street between Newton Corner and West Newton this year will be received with regret by the thousands of drivers who use this thoroughfare daily. While the condition of the entire street is about as deplorable as it could be, to leave, as it is, that portion used by eastbound traffic is creating a dangerous situation. Frequently we have noted eastbound automobiles being driven well over to the left, almost on the wrong side of the street, in order to avoid many of the rougher spots on the right. This practice is entirely wrong at all times and when traffic is moderately heavy the danger of accident is many times increased. Add to this fact the knowledge that the coming Spring thaws will only make conditions worse it is imperative that some temonly make conditions worse it is imperative that some temporary relief be given.

Next Monday night a record will be made in city affairs when the Aldermen are expected to approve the 1931 budget as recommended by Mayor Weeks with but few changes. The record lies in the fact that it will be the earliest passage of a budget in history. Mayor Weeks started the ball rolling by sending his recommendations to the Board more than a week ago. The finance committee concluded its considera-tion of the various items at a long session last night. The Board will take it up in detail Monday night.

The testimonial banquet and gifts presented to our fellow citizen, A. Leslie Moriarty, for many years a faithful employee of the city, is a well-deserved recognition of his endeavors that have been of much benefit to the working conditions of hundreds of others.

THE PLAYING OF BRIDGE HANDS

No. 1

The bidding value of a bridge hand is only equal to your playing ability. The Newton Graphic will print a hand each week, specializing on the play. Explanation, in detail, will be given in the succeeding week's issue.

Bridge players realize that it is not difficult to remember that an Ace is valued at four, a King at three, etc. But there is only one method of teaching the play, as all hands are played differently. For that reason it is necessary to have one's mind open to the beautiful plays that most hands present. It happens quite often that a player will overbid his partner instead of assisting his partner's bid. The reason may be that there is lack of confidence in the partner's ablity to play the hand.

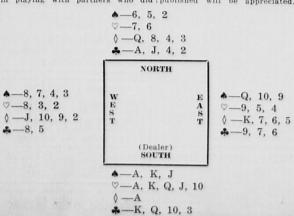

This writer has had experience in playing with partners who did to the playing of bridge hands.

The Newton Graphic will award a non-year subscription, free, to the first person who sends in the correct play of the accompanying hand. The name of the winner and will be published in the hand will be published in the hand assisting his partner's ablity to play the hand.

UNDER THE GILLED DOME

UNDER THE GILLED DOME

The most important event of the week wrs the personal appearance of Governor Ely before a joint convention of the Senate and House when he read his budget message. Not since the budget system was established in this State under Calvin Coolidge as Governor has a chief executive explained in a personal address the reason for the expenditures recommended. The message has always been read by the clerk of the House and in printed form considered by the upper branch. But this year, at the request of Governor Ely, the two branches met in joint convention to listen directly to his appeal. Of course the question now arises, "Has the Governor convinced the Republican majority that his policies are sound?" The budget will be considered by the Joint Ways and Means Committee and it may be that the Governor will appear before that committee at a public hearing. At any rate he will send a representative. The coming weeks will show whether the Governor has been able to accomplish his program for public works to add in the relief of unemployment by a bond issue as against the long-established "pay-as-you-go" policy.

The hearing before the Public Utilities Commission on the petition of the Boston Central Labor Union for a reduction in the rates of the telephone company was opened Tuesday morning. It is expected that it will cover a period of several months.

For the first time in the history of the State, provision has been made by the Governor-and Council for a secretary and two clerks and stenographers for the Lieutenant Governor.

ABOUT TOWN

By Edw. H. Powers

The largest crowd of children Newton Corner has seen for many months stormed the Paramount Theatre last Saturday afternoon to see the film "Tom Sawyer." Hundreds of youngsters were unable to gain admittance. One seven-year-old miss from Carleton street who started out early in the afternoon to attend the show and did not return when evening came, caused alarm to her parents who notified the police. She returned safely home Saturday night with the information that she was unable to get in to the afternoon show and so had walted for the evening performance. That's perthe evening performance. That's persistency.

A conference was held at the State House last Friday on the bil introduced in the Legislature by Representative Bullock of Waltham for the purpose of authorizing Waltham, Newton and Weston to acquire water rights on the Charles River so that a recurrence of the disagreeable conditions prevalent last year due to the low level of water in the river will be prevented. The conference was attended by City Solicitor Bartlett and Newton's representatives in the Legislature.

People in West Newton were entertained last week by the moving of the large, wooden building which for about 35 years has housed the police headquarters and district court of this city. Prior to its use for this purpose the structure was a school-house—the old Pierce School. The Board of Aldermen some months ago appropriated $9000 to have this building moved to the rear of the lot it then occupied. But, plans were changed and the building instead of being moved to the rear of the lot wandered over towards City Hall to ceeds to be given to Health Dept. of the Welfare Bureau.

Expenses of the School Department for the month of December were approved. They included—salaries, regular schools, $94,362.44; vocational school, $4,733.90; fuel, $8,919.98; other expenses, regular schools $10,006.78; vocational school, $744.79; travel expenses outside State, $32.28.

NEWTON FACTORY MAKES RECORD

A safety record of 365 days without a single lost time accident has been made by the employees of the Raytheon Production Corporation. This company is located in Newton and manufactures the Eveready-Raytheon radio tubes.

To serve as a permanent record of this accomplishment, the management will present a bronze plaque to it the employees. Suitably inscribed, the tablet will be erected on a prominent location in the plant area. This safety achievement also brought forth the first issue of a plant publication, appropriately named "The Grid" after that part which is probably the most yout any which is probably the most with a protection of the radio tube.

An unlooked for complication in the building of the new court house developed when it was discovered that the large drain built many years ago under Highland street extended through the site of the new building on its way to Cheese Cake Brook and must be shifted to another location. The aldermen at their last meeting appropriated $4500 for the re-building of this drain.

"For the purpose of constructing said parkway or boulevard, the commission may expend such sum not exceeding four hundred thousand dollars as may hereafter be appropriated. One half of the expenditures made under authority of this section shall be assessed upon the cities and towns of the metropolitan parks district in proportion to the respective taxable valuations of the property of said cities and towns of the metropolitan parks district in proportion to the respective taxable valuations of the property of said cities and towns as defined by section fifty-nine of said chapter ninety-two. The remaining one half shall be paid from the Highway Fund for the current year.

NEWTON MEN VINDICATED

In the Middlesex Probate Court or January 21, Judge Charles Harris dismissed charges made by Frederick McLaughlin, formerly of Auburndale. McLaughlin was the adopted son of Nellie McLaughlin who conducted a bend leading many transportation. Nellie McLaughlin who conducted a hand laundry for many years in Auburndale. He charged that while he was away in the navy in 1927 and under 21 years of age, Miss McLaughlin died without having made a will. James Feerick, superintendent of the Auburndale postoffice, was made administrator of the estate and Dennis M. Cronin of Auburndale was the attorney for the McLaughlin heirs. When Frederick McLaughlin returned from his long sea voyage after his fosfrom his long sea voyage after his fos-ter mother's death, he agreed to cer-tain dispositions of the estate. Later, Frederick McLaughlin alleged he had been defrauded and that Feerick, Cronin and the relatives of Miss McLaughlin had conspired against him. Judge Harris ruled that young McLaughlin's charges were not sustained and he dismissed them. He stated—

"All the petitions will be dismissed on the authority of the decisions in which the Supreme Court has laid down the salutary doctrine that there comes a time when litigation must cease and that, in the interests of justice, after a trial and final judgment in a case, the matters shall not be opened because of contentions that along in the autumn, and because it is contended that one winter should intervene to give the big trench a chance to settle properly, it is deemed inadvisable to resurface that part of the street along which the 60-inch watermain will be laid.

But, even though Washington street between Waltham street, West Newton, and Newton Corner, will not be resurfaced this year, certainly something should be done as soon as the winter is over to afford temporary relief to automobile owners who are compelled to use this stretch of highway. There are a number of sections of Washington street between West Newton and Newton Corner so uneven and humpy that they not only cause discomfort to persons riding in automobiles but cause damage to cars. UNIVERSALIST MINSTRELS PLEASE LARGE CROWD

Over three hundred people, the larg est in fifteen years, gathered in the Parish Hall of the Universalist Church at Washington Park, Newton-Parish Hall of the Universalist Church at Washington Park, Newtonville, last Friday night when the Men's Club presented a gala Minstrel Show, From the opening song to the closing chorus, it was a riot of melody, fun, humor and wise-cracks. Fred M. Blanchard, well-known interlocutor in Masonic circles, presided over the festivities in matchless fashion. The end men were Edwin F. Brown, of Newtonville, W. E. Tomlinson of West Newton. V. H. Vaughan of Newton Centre, and W. E. Zoller of West Newton. The Specialty Man was played by A. G. Dehly of Auburndale who directed the show and wrote the words and music to all songs but one. In the chorus were Allen Swain, George Lamb, Gordon Sidebotham, A. A. Kapp, William Filene, S. G. Dehly, L. P. Everett, Frank A. Batstone, A. C. Kidder, Willard C. Wentworth, A. H. Kendall and Harry Schult.

The voluminous good-nature of the end men was interrupted occasionally for the warblers to "do their stuff." A. H. Kendall sang "Your Eyes Are Beaming." M. A. Kapp sang the Indian solo "Minnenhaha," and A. G. Dehly sang "Monkey Biziness." An eccentric dance by Willard Wentworth was an added feature to his song "Toodle-dee-too-del-too."

During the intermission special acts were done by Dr. Cecil W. Clark, son.

Songs after the intermission included "Tele-a-Phone" by Victor Vaughan and Edwin Brown; "Nantasket" by Will Zoller; "No Parking" by Will Tomlinson, and "The Alphabet of Love" by A. G. Dehly.
The large and well-pleased audience manifested their approval in no uncertain terms, and when the final curtain rang down, several people urged that the Show be repeated on a larger scale for the benefit of the unemployed.

Newtonville Woman's Club

The American Home committee of the Newtonville Woman's Club had charge of the meeting on Tuesday, January 27, at the Central Congregational Church, when a lecture, "The Art of Table Setting and the Romance of Silver," was presented by Virginia Jones, of West Newton, through the courtesy of the Thomas Long Company of Boston.

Mrs. Long. presided at a correctly.

pany of Boston.

Mrs. Jones presided at a correctly appointed dinner table, and served an imaginary dinner. Preceding this, she gave a very interesting talk on the "Romance of Silver," discussing the term sterling and plate as applied to silverware, with a brief sketch of the discovery and early history of the use of silverware for table appointments. At the close of the lecture, questions were asked of Mrs. Jones, who very graciously answered many puzzling graciously answered many puzzling were asked of Mrs. Jones, who very graciously answered many puzzling queries concerning the correct setting of formal and informal dinner, luncheon, and tea tables.

The audience greatly appreciated the privilege of viewing the many and varied patterns of silverware and china sent out by the Thomas Long Company, and also the entertaining and instructive lecture given by Mrs. Jones. The Club is indebted to Mrs. Bion M. Weatherhead and to the members of her American Home committee for a most interesting afternoon.
